TWO KILLED; 29 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Express Dashes Into
Long Branch
Local.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—General Manager Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad stated this afternoon that only two persons were killed and twenty-nine injured some slightly in the rear-end collision near Eddington, Pa. today.

The dead
Mrs. W. H. Connell, wife of an employee of the railroad.

Mrs. Mary O'Malley of Philadelphia. It is said by passengers that the Long Branch express bound for Philadelphia, had stopped to cool a hot journal. While the train crew were at work on the journal the express train which left New York at 7:30 a. m. lumbered around a curve and crashed into the Long Branch train. It is declared that the express from New York disregarded signals and thus caused the accident.

Most of those killed and injured were in a Pullman car on the rear of the Long Branch train. It was cut in two as with a knife, and the impact smashed the two coaches ahead of it. Because of lack of facilities it was some time before the work of rescuing began. A train was quickly made up and most of the injured were brought to this city, though some were sent to Bristol and Trenton others were cared for in neighboring farmhouses.

H. Poppe of Gloucester, N. J. was a passenger on the first train with his wife and two sons.

"IT WAS MURDER"

"It was murder. That's what it was," exclaimed Poppe. "I saw the whole thing. We were all on the first train the one that was struck and it had been standing on the track for about thirty-five minutes. There was a sliding door, but they did not put us on that."

"About a square behind us was the signal located near a curve. I got out of the car to light a cigar and stretch myself and I noticed that the danger signal was up, but the tower is at a curve. Even if the engineer of the train did not see it as he doubtless did, he did not have time to stop."

TRAINS CRASH.

If the flagman had only walked a couple of hundred yards up the track beyond the curve everything would have been all right. The express train then would have had time to stop before doing any damage.

"When the second train came spinning around the curve I saw it coming but did not think it was on the same track as ours. Then I saw that the engineer had put his brakes on hard but it was no use. In a few seconds the train crashed into the rear end

WOMAN WANDERS IN HER NIGHTGOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Mrs. C. Holdsworth, residing at 517 Lyon street, disappeared from her home this morning with a small fortune in diamonds about her neck. Later she was found wandering in Golden Gate

Park. The Park policeman who took her in custody remarked that all she had on was her nightgown and the jewels about her neck. The police found her and returned her to her home, little the worse for her unusual experience.

ROBS A MAN AND SON AT PISTOL POINT

Looted Residence,
Holding Owner
Prisoner.

September 23.—F. A. Smith held up in the home of George Faulkner on Webster street. The house was looted first by the thief, and Smith was held up when he entered the house and surprised the burglar at work.

September 27.—Home of G. E. Lukens at 1362 Jackson street, entered by porch climber, who obtained but little for his trouble.

September 28.—Burglar enters home of C. R. Hatch at 1372 Harrison street and holds up Hatch and his son, relieving them of money.

One of the most daring burglaries in the police annals of this city took place shortly after nine o'clock last night at the home of C. R. Hatch, father-in-law of Asa V. Mendenhall, at 1372 Harrison street, in the heart of the residence district just west of Lake Merritt. After entering the house for the purpose of burglary, the bold thug held up two of the members of the family, Mr. Hatch and his son, C. E. Hatch, and relieved them of their valuables.

Although it is believed that the burglar was an amateur at the business, he had unusual nerve as every one of his acts was cool and deliberate. He is described as being a young man, about five feet nine inches in height, with black eyes and black hair. As the fellow wore a mask, his victims could obtain but a slight description of his face. The burglar wore a stylish gray suit and a telescope hat. After committing his thefts he made good his escape, leaving the Hatch home by the front door. The police were notified at once by Mr. Hatch, but no clue of the burglar could be obtained.

HE USED A JIMMY.

Entrance to the Hatch home was gained by a side door, a jimmy being used to pry it open. The thief then searched about the lower portion of the house, the mud on his shoes being tracked about the carpet. He evidently went into the servants' room as everything there was turned topsy-turvy. The burglar obtained but little booty.

The bold thief lifted a lamp down-

SECRETARY TAFT DECLARES HIMSELF GOVERNOR OF CUBA Issues a Proclamation Which Is Distributed Throughout Havana and Elsewhere.

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—An American provisional government assumed control of Cuba today when War Secretary Taft's proclamation declaring himself provisional Governor of the Government was formally issued. The proclamation was published in the official gazette and thousands of printed copies of the document were distributed in Havana and elsewhere.

The terms of the proclamation caused general satisfaction, especially on account of the moderate terms in which it is phrased, its statement that the provisional government of Cuba is undertaken on account of the necessities of the situation and its promise that the provisional government will be maintained purely for the purpose of restoring peace, order and public confidence until a permanent government is established. No one appears inclined to doubt the good intentions of President Roosevelt and his representatives, and there is no apprehension of any serious trouble or resistance to the provisional government in any part of Cuba.

FIRE OF RESENTMENT BURNS DEEP, AMONG LADIES OF THE AID SOCIETY DENIED RIGHT TO MEET IN THE CHURCH PARLORS ATTITUDE OF PROFESSOR VAN KIRK OPENLY CRITICISED SEMINARY IS IN POSSESSION

Women Who Helped Pay Church Debt Have No Place for Meetings

BERKELEY Sept 26—A smoldering fire of resentment against the action of Professor Hiram Van Kirk in rudely dispelling their ignorance as to who possessed the right of priority in the First Christian Church building, burns in the breasts of the Aid Society ladies, who, meantime, are considering the question of where to hold their meetings, while the professor daily meets his classes in the church parlors. The Aid Society ladies were not a bit reticent when seen by a TRIBUNE reporter last evening. The story was "out" and they seemed glad of the opportunity to relieve their feelings.

Mrs Wallace Pond, the newly elected president of the society, said: "When they insisted upon using the church parlors for their meeting last Thursday the Aid Society ladies did not understand the true situation. They were not aware of the prior right of the seminary and expressed their surprise. Mr Van Kirk thereupon proceeded to explain to them how the church and the seminary had a partnership in the building. Until then the ladies didn't know their limitations. Of course they would be glad to have a building in which they would have more privileges. All, however, are disposed to do the fair thing. As they haven't a church they are going to make the best of it."

Mrs Frank Wehe, one of the most prominent ladies of the church and a member of the Aid Society, said: "The ladies don't feel as if they had been treated right. They feel that after the seminary had been paid so much of the amount owing to it, the directors should be willing to make some amicable arrangement regarding the use of the church parlors."

Mrs Ira Sorrick, a former president of the Ladies Aid Society, said: "This same question arose last year in a somewhat different way. It came to the point where it had to be settled who should use the church meeting rooms. The directors of the seminary at last agreed that the ladies should have the use of the church parlors on their meeting day. It seems that they have decided this year that the seminary has the exclusive use of the rooms."

Miss Helen Mesow, who is not on the membership roll, but who has assisted the ladies at various times, had the following to say: "I assure you that the ladies of the Aid Society will do the right thing. As they haven't a church to themselves they will make the best of it. They have worked hard and faithfully to pay the church debt, and it seems a shame that the seminary should now deny them the use of the church parlors."

PLAN TO HOUSE MOTHERLESS GIRLS

CIVILSKILL N. 1 Sept 26—A plan for the establishment of clubs in various cities for the encouragement of motherless girls was announced here to night by Mrs. Maggie Van Cott, 77 years old, the evangelist and revival leader. Rescue missions are doing a noble work, said Mrs. Van Cott. But we will try to reach the girls before they enter the downward path. In New York, New York, and in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, I shall personally look after the formation of the clubs.

ROYAL SALUTE WAS DENIED DIRTY PRINCE

The present Crown Prince of Germany had as a child a great dislike of being washed. The Emperor tried various means to cure him, and he at last hit on the right one. The young Prince came running to him one day in a great rage, saying the servants had not washed him. He passed. To be sure, said the Emperor, I gave orders they were not to wash a dirty prince, but only a clean one. The child's pride was hurt and he took his bath.

BIG RECEPTION GIVEN DR. DILLE

Pleasant Evening is Spent at M. E. Church in Welcoming Pastor and Wife.

A spirit of sincere pleasure at the return to his congregation of the Rev. E. R. Dille prevailed at the reception tendered in the parlors of the First Methodist church last evening to Dr. and Mrs. Dille and to the Rev. E. C. Gale, the assistant pastor, and his wife. The reception was given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. It was made by the congregation an event for every member.

The pastors of the church were therefore, well filled when Dr. John Fern rose to address the members and to welcome on behalf of the official board, Dr. Dille back to his pulpit. He told of the many cogent reasons that had been urged with the conference at Pacific Grove why he should be returned to his church. He mentioned also the fact that some half-dozen telegrams from the First church went to Pacific Grove the day the assignments were to be made, urging that there be no change in that of Dr. Dille. To explain how earnestly the people wanted Dr. Dille among them and felicitated both the pastor and the congregation upon the action of the conference.

Harry Martin of the church's Sunday school welcomed the pastor on behalf of that organization. Charles White did like duty for the Young Men's league, and Miss Carrie McCutcheon for the young women of the church. Hugh Hamilton made an interesting talk of welcome on behalf of the Christian Endeavor Society. He said that no portion of the church had had more examples of the kindness and earnestness of Dr. Dille and his assistant than had the Endeavorers, and that the members were hence especially glad for their return.

Both the Rev. Dr. Dille and the Rev. Mr. Gale spoke in reply to the remarks that had been made. Dr. Dille said that there had been a time when he had had half a notion to give up his work here for something not quite so onerous. He explained that this had not been from lack of love for his people but rather because of it, since he believed that a younger man might be able to go better and more service than he had been able to do. He therefore went to Pacific Grove, but half decided as to what his future course was to be. He said he was not sorry for the action of the conference. His return to Oakland and the welcome he had received more than asured him of the satisfaction that was felt in his work. He was glad for this showing, since it would prove for him such an incentive as nothing else could. He thanked his people for their kindnesses to him, and for the spirit in which they had almost demanded his return.

The Rev. Mr. Gale declared that he was as glad for the return of Dr. Dille as he was for the fact that the conference had seen fit to continue him as the assistant pastor of the First church. He thanked the members on his own and his wife's behalf for the kindness of the evening's reception.

The music for the evening had been prepared by the choir leader, J. M. Robinson, and was furnished by the quartet of the church, assisted by the organist. Following the program light refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening pleasantly spent in general congratulations for the minister and his assistant.

The Office Boy and His Future

My boss asked me yesterday what I was going to do when I tapered off and grew up. I told him that he could bet I wouldn't be an office boy, cause all the big men in the country who started like me with only two hands and a noodle full of dark gray substance were now rich and powerful in the country's affairs, and I was destined to lead a political career, that I was going to get myself elected to the Senate and have a law passed that would fine and punish any man above 21 years of age who worked between meals. They do that way over in New Zealand 'cause they are so busy having a good time that 'nobody' works but 'nether.' No work between meals. Gee whist! Eat and sleep, hey? He for law, and yet how pleasant it is to get your pay envelope on a Saturday night and know you have worked hard for the money, and made the boss some money too. He needs a profit as much as I do a spine, and the chance again, while I would swell up and spend $2 more than I have made having a good time. Too much salary is better than not enough, and how business does keep up; I wonder is it the 'boss's' good nature, good looks or location that brings the business in?

CANDIDATES TALK IN THE TOWN OF NEWARK

M. J. Kelly, Candidate for County Treasurer, Makes an Interesting Address.

The busy little town of Newark last night received the candidates of the Republican party with open arms and a display of enthusiasm which was equal to any reaction yet accorded the men seeking office on the ticket. County Commissioner J. C. Mowry introduced J. B. Tyrre as chairman of the meeting and, with the hall crowded to its doors, the various candidates addressed the assembled residents.

While the principal speaker of the evening was Col. M. J. Kelly of San Francisco, who endorsed the Republican party, M. J. Kelly, candidate for the office of county treasurer, made a splendid speech. Mr. Kelly has a number of friends in the town, and was cordially received when he took the platform. Mr. Kelly prefaced his remarks with the statement that he was no orator or had ever made pretensions as a public speaker, but that on this occasion he deemed it advisable to say a word in regard to his position before the people of the county. Mr. Kelly was appointed to the office of county treasurer on the death of the late incumbent, and has had a few months to demonstrate his ability to the people. He was formerly employed in the United States mint in San Francisco, and has always had to do with finance and the custody of moneys.

In part Mr. Kelly said: "This is my first appearance before the people of this county in the role of a candidate. While this is all new to me, I am sure it is not new to you because every four years you hear the voices of the candidates for office. I assure you, however, that you will not hear much of my voice, because I am not in any sense a public speaker. However, I have something to offer you in the fact that I have held office a short time by courtesy of an appointment of the Board of Supervisors and so can show some small record as an official and public employee. The office of county treasurer is one of the most important in the business of the county government and concerns every man who pays a cent to conduct the work of administration. It is the great depository of the public funds and should be safeguarded and watched with the greatest fidelity and efficiency. There is a mass of detail involved in the treasurer's work which must be taken care of by expert people. The employee of the office has a burden of responsibility which should always be impressed upon them and at no time forgotten. "I have been honored with the nomination for the office by the party and I assure you that if elected there will never be a regret from any of my supporters. I ask you people of Newark for your support and I feel sure that the demonstration given this evening will like the other candidates, receive it. So I take this opportunity to thank you for what may be done for me on November 6."

Mr. Kelly's remarks were listened to attentively and on conclusion he was given a hearty endorsement in the hand-clapping which followed his address.

COLONEL EDDY. Colonel Eddy, whose eloquence is well known and who has been identified with the political life of California for a number of years, followed Mr. Kelly and in the course of his remarks paid glowing tributes to the Republican party, locally and nationally. He said: "As regards the candidates offered you on the county ticket, you have an array of the best public men this vicinity has ever known. You can hardly go back on the men who have brought you the present healthy condition of business and political life which now surrounds you. Every candidate sitting here tonight is a tried and true man, whether he has occupied office or not. The party never has offered anything but honesty and efficiency and that is the reason that they are so confident of its worth. You know that the national party never promised anything it never kept. When the campaign was said they would increase the wages of the workmen they did it. When they said they would increase the value of money, it was done. When they said they would legislate against the Chinese they did it and so made laboring conditions in the United States better than they were ever before. There is more money in the savings banks today than there has been in the history of the country and this is the most prosperous period in the history of this country. Republican administration has been responsible for this and it is the party which has safeguarded the interests of the people of this country for forty years."

OTHER SPEAKERS. Other speakers to address the meeting were James Ellsworth, Harris and Ogden; Everett Brown, candidate for district attorney; John A. Cook, candidate for tax collector; George S. Pierce, candidate for auditor; J. A. Harding, candidate for sheriff; George Gray, candidate for public administrator; George Erick, candidate for county superintendent of schools; Frank Barker, candidate for sheriff; Assemblyman D. K. Sirobridge, candidate for the assembly; Charles Thomas, candidate for county assessor, and others.

and municipal governments, including that of the city of Havana, will continue to be administered as under the Cuban republic; the courts will continue to administer justice, and all the laws not in their nature inapplicable by reason of the temporary and emergent character of the government will be in force.

DELAZ DANGEROUS. "President Roosevelt has been most anxious to bring about the peace under the constitutional government of Cuba and he made every endeavor to avoid the present step. Longer delay, however, would be dangerous in view of the resignation of the cabinet. Until further notice the heads of all the departments of the central government will report to me for instructions, including General Alexander Rodriguez, in command of the Rural Guards, and other regular government forces, and General Carlos Roloff, treasurer of Cuba."

"Until further notice the civil government and alcaldes will also report to me for instructions. "I ask all citizens and residents of Cuba to assist me in the work of restoring order, tranquility and public confidence."

"WILLIAM H. TAFT, "Secretary of War of the United States, Provisional Governor of Cuba. "Havana, Sept. 29, 1906."

TAFT IN PALACE. Governor Taft proceeded to the palace at noon to take over the government of Cuba. The act was not accomplished by any formal ceremony. General Funston will command all the troops in Cuba, but if they exceed the dimensions of a brigade an officer of higher rank will be sent from the United States. It is practically certain, however, that no such contingency will arise, as it is apparent that the maintenance of the provisional government will not require a large number of troops.

Consul-General Steinhart received orders early today to telegraph to the rebel commanders throughout the island informing them of Governor Taft's proclamation and the establishment of the provisional government.

WILL BE RELEASED. General Jose Miguel Gomez and other conspiracy prisoners will be released from custody today, in order that as members of a committee representing the insurgents they may sign an agreement with Governor Taft that the rebels will lay down their arms immediately.

A commission headed by General Funston will be appointed today to superintend the actual laying down of arms on the part of the rebels. This commission will visit all the rebel camps throughout the island and will be composed of Americans only, in order to avoid creating any bad feeling or complications. The commission also will disarm the volunteer forces of the government, leaving the Cuban forces as they existed prior to the rebellion.

The commission will be accompanied by a disbursing officer, who will pay the expenses of the return home of the rebels and thus avoid any dissatisfaction. The only disquieting report re-stairs and walking upstairs entered the couple, where were seated Mr. Hatch and his son. The other members of the family were away at the time, and Hatch and his son were the only persons in the house. The burglar had evidently spotted the place and had seen the remainder of the family go away. Thinking that he could work unmolested he probably decided to enter the house.

He was somewhat startled to find the two men in the front room but he was quick with his revolver and flourished that menacingly.

Placing the pistol in close proximity to Hatch's head, the burglar said: "Hold up your hands, gentlemen. This was done and the burglar-rubber searched his victims' pockets and secured $500 from the father and $175 from the son. The leader Hatch held his hand over his gold watch and this hold-up man failed to get.

"Are you not ashamed of the business you are in?" queried Hatch, as he expressed with the burglar. "Close your mouth," came the reply from beneath the mask. "I was forced to do this by the earthquake."

Seeing that he had obtained about everything of value in sight, the burglar then wished the two astonished victims a pleasant good night and walking down the front stairs, departed from the house. It has been reported to the police that $5 and a gold watch were taken from the son's pockets and that the burglar was ransacking the place.

This is the third burglary the last week that has been reported to the police. In each instance the culprit was committed in the same way and the police believe that all three were the work of one man.

FRAUD IS THE CHARGE

Arthur Magill's Guardian Brings an Action in Superior Court.

Proceedings were inaugurated in the Superior Court of this county this morning by Arthur E. Magill, the wealthy young resident of this city, to set aside a mortgage, deeds, etc., alleged to have been obtained from him through fraud. Ora C. Kennison is named in the complaint as the defendant, with John Doe parties as co-defendants. The suit was brought by A. L. McPherson, as guardian of Arthur, through Attorney J. E. McElroy.

The complaint alleges that Arthur E. Magill at all times mentioned therein was and is an incompetent person and has been and now is mentally incompetent to manage his property, or property care for same.

MANY LIVES ARE LOST IN GREAT GULF STORM

Mobile and Vicinity Swept by the Destroyer—Pitiful Are Stories Told by Survivors.

MERIDIAN, Miss. Sept. 29.—Information from Mobile by train this morning confirms the report that Coden, Ala., Port, Ala., and Bayou La Bataz have been wiped off the map and that but one house, the Julius home, is left standing at Coden. Among the dead are some of the most prominent people of the coast, including the wife and youngest daughter of State Senator S. McDae of Washington county; Major D. J. Stevens, Oliver Werneth, wife and youngest daughter, and H. G. Turner, a leading lumberman. The entire west shore below Mobile is reported completely devastated. Twenty-five bodies have been recovered and thirty more were reported as known to have perished. Many bodies of negroes are included in this report and the survivors of the race are terror-stricken and helpless.

Santa Rosa quarantine station, across the bay from the city, has been demolished. There were eight seamen in the hospital from a British steamer. The hospital building was carried away, eight men clinging to the roof. Five were washed up on this side after a night of terror on the bay and the other three were drowned with two nurses. The United States quarantine station has been destroyed.

DAMAGE IS GREAT.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—From the hitherto isolated Gulf Coast district immediately east of Mobile the first news arrived here today. The report told of lives lost in the gulf and great damage to shipping, but indicated that on land few if any persons were killed by the hurricane. Property damage in this district was very large.

The report was brought by passengers on the Louisville and Nashville railroad who passed through Mobile about the beginning of the hurricane and who for about fifty hours after the storm had stopped their train at Scranton, Miss., were shut off from communication with the rest of the world. Ventilators were blown out of the coaches, when shortly before daylight Thursday morning the wind became so violent that orders were issued to hold the train.

DIES AT HIS POST.

After the storm subsided one of the saddest stories of the hurricane was brought into Scranton. A tug left Scranton before the storm reached its height and ran to Horn Island out in the gulf offering to take ashore Captain Johnson, keeper of the Horn Island light, and his wife and daughter. Captain Johnson refused to leave the light and his wife and daughter would not separate from him. After the storm the tug went out again. The lighthouse had been destroyed and hours of search failed to reveal any sign of the fate which overtook its keeper.

First reports were received from Southwest Pass today and said that eight barges carrying a large amount of cement for the government contract at the Pass were sunk during the storm. No lives were lost.

The lighthouse tender Magnolia, commanded by J. H. Sears, in charge of United States light-house inspection, left here today to investigate damage to light-houses.

NEWS IS SCARCE.

New Orleans and the surrounding country even today found difficulty in getting telegraph news about events in other parts of the country. Such wires as were recovered in Mississippi repeatedly failed and the Texas circuit over which all dispatches arrived from the north and east were continually reporting delays.

News of the storm at other points and the Cuban situation was carried by tug boats from New Orleans to gulf coast towns and the newspaper distributors on the first tugs were cheered.

MILLIONS ARE LOST.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—The first train over the Mobile & Ohio road from Mobile arrived this morning, after having been delayed there for thirty-six hours. George K. Warner of St. Louis, treasurer of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company and his family were passengers from Mobile.

"The storm is not as bad as in 1893, according to my opinion. I went through both storms," said Mr. Warner.

"The storm Thursday was a freak storm, the wind coming from the southeast and sweeping over the city, doing great damage to the wharves, harbor and naval stores on the water front. The damage I think will reach probably $2,500,000. Sixty per cent or more of the wharves and docking facilities were damaged and put out of use for some time. Roofs were torn from houses and windows blown out, but the total will be small. I know of only three deaths and they were negroes.

"The storm Thursday blew at a rate of about fifty-five miles an hour and was not as great in force and effect as was the storm in 1893, when the velocity was about seventy-two miles an hour. There was no tidal wave; the wind simply forced the water from the gulf into the city. I heard of three negroes having been drowned. There was very little loss of life. The accounts of the loss of life and property have been exaggerated.

"The damage could be seen along the line from Mobile north to points in Mississippi, corn and cotton being greatly damaged."

TELLS STORY OF STORM. C. E. Clayton, the Pullman conductor of the train, who also passed through the Mobile storm, made the following statement:

"The damage to Mobile cannot yet be told. When the train pulled out of Mobile yesterday morning the water was sweeping into the city from the gulf and the wind was still blowing hard. For four blocks north from the water front the water stood from four to six feet deep in the buildings and the damage to the contents will be great. I am sure the loss of life has been exaggerated. I understand that one white man was drowned on the first floor of the Southern Hotel while trying to escape from the flooded building. Three negroes were drowned in the outskirts while trying to save livestock. A negro baby was killed by falling debris. It was reported that ten or fifteen people lost their lives wrecked and sunk.

BLOWN TO PIECES. "The pier of the Mobile and Ohio road was blown to pieces. Christ Church was badly damaged. The Cawthorn and Bienville hotels were damaged to a great extent. Bienville Park is a mass of fallen trees. The force of the hurricane unroofed houses generally over the city and uprooted trees and all the while rain poured in a torrent. For 100 miles north of Mobile the storm did much damage, tearing off roofs and destroying cotton and corn along the route. At Citronville, Ala., two houses were blown down and it is said that one or two persons were killed.

JEWIS OBSERVE A HOLIDAY

Today is the Jewish festival of Yom Kippur. It is also known as Israel's Day of Atonement. It is being generally observed by the Jews of this city by cessation from business, and by fasting and solemn communing with the Deity through prayer.

The festival commenced at sundown last evening and will continue this evening until after dark. In the synagogue of the First Hebrew congregation, the Best Jacob congregation, in Germania hall and Pythian castle the Kol Nidre services, appropriate to the occasion were held last evening and attracted a great deal of attention. These are the most solemn services in the ritual of the synagogue and, during their progress, Hebrews prepare their souls for atonement in order that their sins may be forgiven. Some devotees remain in prayer for forgiveness during the whole night. Neither food nor drink passes the lips of the faithful ones during the progress of the feast. There was a continuation of the services in the places mentioned today and eloquent Yom Kippur sermons were delivered by the several rabbis. A noon there were memorial services for the departed.

"We had several passengers out of Mobile that had been in the hurricane at Montgomery and they say that the damage there is very large. The Pullman car that they were on was attached to a train on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad that was held near Montgomery for eighteen hours. Everything was as dry as could be at 6:30 a. m. Thursday at Montgomery and at 8:30 a. m. the passengers on the train, including the Pullman passengers that were on that train, had to wade from the train in water up to their arms, and some of them narrowly escaped drowning. The damage at the South by the hurricane and tidal wave cannot be told yet at all, so great is it, as I learned from all parts of the South. The damage alone to the cotton crop will be several millions of dollars, aside from the damage to sugar cane and corn crop. All along the line to Corinth, Miss., effects of the storm could be seen in the destruction of the cotton and corn."

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me. Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it."

(Signed) Mrs. ANNA COONER.

2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Hundreds of lady scalp specialists and hair dressers use and recommend Newbro's Herpicide, instead of products of their own manufacture upon which a much larger profit could be made. They claim that Herpicide makes friends for them and gives much better satisfaction. Some hair dressers use Herpicide for obstinate cases only, but why not use the best first? Herpicide is a delightful dressing that can be used when there is no disease of the hair or scalp, and as an actual remedy for dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair it stands in a class singularly its own. Many ladies object to a gummy and sticky hair dressing, or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

THE WHITE STEAM CAR

Simplicity of Control

"As easily controlled as a streamer," has passed into a proverb. Every change of speed in our car is accomplished by a mere touch of the throttle wheel. Do you realize what this means? It means that in any emergency where quick action is required only one motion is necessary and this is performed instinctively. When you want to stop you merely close the throttle and apply the brake. There is no clutch to bother with or to stick; there are no gears to shift. Thoughtful buyers are recognizing this and are buying White Cars for family touring because they are

We can convince you that the White Car uses less fuel in proportion to power, speed and carrying capacity than any other car built. Isn't that a point to consider?

The White Car is propelled by a steady, smoothly flowing stream of steam. It has no vibration and consequently the only wear upon it is occasioned by the road traveled and by the ordinary wear and tear incident to all machinery. GUARDS WHO FLIRT WILL BE SUSPENDED

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 29.—There is consternation along the beach, for the order has gone forth, in big type, too, that "life guards who are caught flirting will be suspended."

That means no pleasant quarter hours spent under protecting umbrellas by beautiful heroes of the surf and the handsome and often wealthy, summer girls. For the summer girl the life saver—that is to say, the young life saver—has a wonderful charm, and for the young life guard the seaside belle has a fascination so potent that duty is sometimes forgotten.

"How can the drowning man be seen from the shore," asks Beach Surgeon Beckwith, "if the guards are flirting with the summer guests?" And as there was no adequate answer the signs were posted.

MARK REQUA BUILDS RAILWAY

Prominent Oaklanders Score a Big Success in State of Nevada.

An event of great importance in the mining world was the opening of the new railroad into Ely, Nev., where the great copper deposit of the West is being developed.

Ely is in the heart of the famous White Pine country, with some of the richest copper mines in the world.

At the head of the largest and most influential company has been Mark L. Requa, and it is chiefly through his efforts extending over many months that the railroad has been built, the last 150 miles of it having just been completed.

Mr. Requa is ranked in New York as one of the most successful business men of our coast, and he succeeded in interesting many influential business men in New York in the now famous copper mines of Nevada. The railroad into the mine has been a pet project, as the process of getting the ore on the market without the railroad is extremely difficult.

The railroad through the mountains represents one of the difficult mining engineering feats of the age, and Mr. Requa and his associates are justly delighted with the success of the project. It means millions of dollars for what will probably be one of the richest mining companies in this part of the world.

Today, over in Ely, White Pine County is being celebrated "Railroad Day," a special train running from Salt Lake over the new road bringing distinguished men to participate in the ceremonies and general rejoicing.

There is to be a barbecue for 2500 people, and notable addresses by distinguished speakers have been arranged.

President S. W. Eccles of the Nevada Northern will speak on the subject, "Driving the Last Spike."

General Manager Mark L. Requa has chosen for his subject, "How and Why the Nevada Northern Was Built."

"Nevada as Affected by the San Francisco Earthquake" is the subject of the address by Hon. Francis G. Newlands.

"Nevada as Seen From the Governor's Office" will be discussed by Hon. John Sparks.

Many notable speakers are on the program, and the occasion bids fair to be notable in the annals of Nevada.

Mark Requa and the distinguished New York associates who make up the directorate of this famous Ely copper deposit are now in Nevada, having gone there to join in the general celebration over the completion of the new railroad. The local paper says:

"We have the mines; we have the men—we have the money too, and there's more to come."

And over in Nevada they speak of Mark Requa as "the greatest miner of the age." For it was Mr. Requa who developed the big mine in Nevada, quietly and patiently working these many months, and looking back it is evident what he has accomplished. He has built a railroad to operate a 600-acre patch of ore on a great copper deposit that reveals over 5000 acres of mineralized rock. After seven years of development 2 per cent of the ground is opened with 40,000,000 tons of ore in sight and a calculable net profit already of $175,000,000.

Over in Nevada they are saying wonderful things of Mark Requa. In one of the recent speeches we read: "Mr. Requa is a high-class, educated, discriminating, cautious kind of a miner, who is also a clever financier, a man that would not try to walk among the stars, but wants to feel the ground under his feet."

It is notable that Mark L. Requa is following in the footsteps of his father, the late Isaac L. Requa, one of the most honorable pioneers of the early Nevada days—of the days when Consolidated Virginia and Chollar Potosi brought big fortunes. The second generations—the sons of these sturdy pioneers have scored failures for the most part. Mark Requa has succeeded, in spite of the handicap of money—he has done the day's work like a man.

Over in Nevada he has discovered one of the richest copper mines in a district of the most wonderful promise. The Requas are of the old Huguenot stock, coming to America early in the eighteenth century. One of their latest descendants has just completed a remarkable piece of work—has lived up to the traditions of his race. He is still a young man, and his future career will be watched with interest, not only by the old family friends, but the public in the large business centers of the world.

The Requas are to make their home in Ely, Nev., for some months to come, that Mr. Requa may personally superintend the development of the rich copper properties.

Mr. Requa and his associates are going to New York, leaving Ely early in the week. Mr. Requa will be joined at Ogden by his mother, Mrs. Isaac Requa, who will accompany him to New York. He is going on a brief business trip, after which he will return to Nevada.

The Repentance of a Fool.

The repentance of a fool never compensates for the calamities, the sorrows and suffering he causes. His shallow remorse springs mainly from wounded vanity and not from a sentiment of real grief and repentance.

The fool who rocks the boat, the fool who aims the unloaded gun, the fool who tries to outrun the wind with an automobile is always bathed in repentant tears and profuse in his expressions of remorse when his criminal folly results in fatal and shocking consequences from which others are the greatest sufferers. It is to be noted, however, that he soon dries his tears, and in a little while returns to his fool tricks. Like a monkey in a cage he repeats an endless and aimless performance, dictated by self-admiration. He is in love with his own imagined cleverness, and therefore despises the precautions, consideration and forethought of sensible people.

In every considerable town in the land grief is ever present because of the criminal folly of some fool who didn't mean any harm and took a fool's chance just to show himself off. While sorrow abideth with those who really can suffer, the hair-brained cause of the misery goes his laughing way, taking fool chances and putting to hazard the lives and limbs of others. His enormous self-conceit renders him insensible to the pangs of genuine remorse.

As the repentance of a fool is only the passing smart of hurt vanity, it is entitled to no respect. It is mostly self-pity at best, and self-pity is the contemptible emotion of a weak and selfish mind. It is sorrow for the consequences to oneself of one's own crimes and follies, not true penitence for the guilt of crime and folly, nor grief for the consequences to others. The shallowness of mind which leads him to acts of folly prevents him from feeling deeply about anything. What are fresh-made graves, widows' weeds, grieving orphans and sorrowing friends to him whose vanity is his largest and tenderest part. If he only had sense enough to cry, "God forgive me, a fool," there would be hope for him and a real touch of feeling in his repentance. But it is the way of the fool not to know he is a fool, and to lay the blame of his criminal folly on others. He lives a fool and will die as the fool dieth.

Speaking of the garbage question, is there any reason why garbage should be injected into political discussion?

The Sacramento Bee says "Hearst has swallowed the New York Democracy," and in the very next breath says "Charlie Murphy and Bourke Cockran swallowed Hearst." Hold on, brother! This taxes our belief is a trifle too severely. We are perfectly willing to let you have it your own way whether Hearst swallowed the tiger or the tiger swallowed Hearst, but we will be dogged if we can believe they both swallowed each other.

District Attorney Jerome, who made a fight to get Tammany's support for Governor and failed, now says the support of Tammany dams Hearst. If Hearst had failed to get the support of Tammany he would have been damned anyhow in the eyes of Jerome, for that individual was vociferous in denouncing Hearst before the primaries were held. It is not our fight, but it is not amiss to remark that no Democratic candidate for Governor or President has ever rejected the support of Tammany Hall. The first time Cleveland was nominated, he enforced the unit rule on Tammany at St. Louis. We do not recall an instance where a candidate in any convention rejected the votes of delegates on moral or any other grounds. In the convention that nominated Cleveland the first time, General Bragg said, "We love him for the enemies he has made," but he took Tammany's votes just the same. Mr. Jerome would gladly have taken them at Buffalo could he have gotten them.

A SUGGESTION ABOUT BONDS.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Anent the question of bonds for municipal betterments and utilities, when the approval of the people has been invoked through the elective franchise, a popular plan would be to sell the bonds to the taxpayers who are to pay interest and principal after the bonds have been issued.

It may be a pleasant task to send a financier into the Eastern money marts to hypothecate bonds on a per cent basis, but it would be more in harmony with the eternal fitness of things to give the voters the first option to purchase the bonds they obligate themselves to pay.

"A finger in the pie" would increase respect and genuine loyalty to the municipality on the part of every citizen residing in Oakland. Oakland, September 30, 1906. "BONDSMAN."

Benefits of the New Hotel.

The success of the new hotel project is assured because all the nine banks belonging to the Clearing House Association and the leading capitalists of the city are behind it. A united effort by all the financial forces of the city could not fail, and it is this hearty co-operation that has made the new hotel a certainty at the outset. While stock subscriptions are to be called for, that is only a matter of detail, since large blocks of stock have been spoken for in advance.

However, the community at large ought to co-operate in this scheme. It is a public enterprise that promises large benefits to the public at large, hence it is desirable that property-owners and business men generally should take a financial interest in it and thus promote the success of the hotel after it is built.

An instantaneous advance in property values in the territory immediately adjacent has followed the announcement of the location of the hotel site. The block on which the hotel is to be built is today worth in the market twice the sum paid for it, and surrounding property has enhanced in like proportion. This is but a hint of what will occur when the hotel is built and opened for business. The increase in the value of half a dozen blocks will be equal to the entire cost of erecting and furnishing the hotel. Once the hotel is built—and it is sure to be—the site will be worth three or four times its original cost to the hotel company.

Here is an object lesson which should be studied by business men and property-owners in every part of the city. It is a convincing evidence of the financial wisdom of a fine hotel of the modern type in Oakland. Of course, there will be other hotels, but this is one that will make the city known far and wide as a place having every accommodation to offer the best class of travel. It will be to Oakland what the Palace was to San Francisco and what the Hotel Portland is to Portland, Oregon, and the Rainier is to Seattle. It will be the centering point of a stream of travel, drawing together the elements of local commercial life, and affording a radiating focus of general activity that will be of vast benefit to the city in a multitude of ways.

George Pierce For County Auditor.

Among the younger Republicans of Alameda county none is more popular or more respected than George S. Pierce, nominee for County Auditor. His neighbors in the Seventh Ward have known him from childhood, and those who have known him longest like him best, showing that he is a man who wears well. No man can have a better certificate of character than the good opinion of his neighbors and the friendship of those with whom he has grown up. Judged by this standard, George Pierce stands highly recommended, indeed, to the voters of the county.

But Mr. Pierce is no stranger to the general public, nor is he inexperienced in official life. He has been a deputy in the County Clerk's office for the last eight years, being at present the chief deputy under John P. Cook. In that capacity he has proved himself capable and trustworthy, as all with whom he has come in contact can testify. People having business with the County Clerk's office remember him for his pleasant manners and his disposition to oblige. His readiness to render a service and assist inquirers at the Hall of Records has gained him a host of friends throughout the county.

Mr. Pierce is well fitted to fill the office of County Auditor. He has familiarized himself with every detail of the county's business, and is competent to take charge of any department of it. He can be relied on also to perform his duties as the law directs and to the satisfaction of the public. Taxpayers will find him a safe man to trust in the important position to which he aspires. They will find him a vigilant guardian of the county's finances, swift to detect all illegal and irregular claims and prompt to reject them. In the Auditor's office he will display the same efficiency and painstaking attention to the public business that he has shown as chief deputy in the County Clerk's office.

Mr. Pierce was nominated by acclamation in the Republican convention, and was endorsed by the Democratic convention. Therefore he stands before the people as the choice of both the Republican and Democratic parties, and should be sure of election. He is certainly entitled to the support of every Republican and Democratic voter in the county—in fact, is worthy the support of men of all parties, for he is safe and competent. Surely the citizens of this Republican county could ask for nothing better.

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath

BAD ODOR OF INDIGESTION, SMOKING, DRINKING OR EATING CAN BE INSTANTLY STOPPED.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is nauseating to other people to stand before them and while you are talking give them a whiff of two of your bad breath. It is a way comes from food fermenting on your tongue. Sometimes you have it in the morning—that awful sour, bilious, bad breath. You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorbers ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," or "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you belch in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, as every one knows. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods, or gas from indigestion. Don't use breath perfume. They never conceal the odor, and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges in the first place stop for good all sour, urash and belching of gas, and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet. Just after you've eaten. Then no one will turn his face away from you when you breathe or talk; your breath will be pure and fresh, and sweet. Your food will taste so much better to you when you next eat. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things. It carries away from your stomach and intestines all the impurities; there massed together and which causes the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber.

Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy and mild laxative known. A whole box of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, and more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a fair flavor of honey to make them palatable for you, but not too sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless.

Get a new, pure, sweet breath, freshen your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the secret of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful but simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these little wonder workers yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your drugist and get a box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable, and "cleaner" inside.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 50 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

STEAL GIRLS FROM HOMES

Serious Charges are Preferred
Against Captains of Whaling Vessels.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 29.—The Harold Dollar, which arrived from the North, whither it carried provisions to the icebound whaling fleet, reports that twelve of the whalers are still in the North. The whalers stated that the catch of the entire fleet was fifty-two whales.

The men tell stories of terrible suffering on the different ships, one of the principal causes being the lack of food on the vessels. They also claim that charges have been preferred against a number of the whaling captains among whom are Captain Bodfish master of the Bayless, Captain Neuth, master of the Janette, and Captain Tilton former master of the Alexander and present mate of the Janette in the absence of Captain Neuth who with Captain Bodfish is under arrest.

They confirmed the stories of a stealing of native girls from their homes for immoral purposes and say that full depositions regarding these charges were taken before the ships left. Charges of brutality and insufficient feeding are made against Captain Thurston and against Captain John Cook master of the Belusa.

CHICAGO'S MOST UNIQUE FUNERAL

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The most unique funeral Chicago has ever seen was that of Henry Schuller today. From the cottage where Schuller, his wife and baby had lived an automobile cortege followed the man's body to the cemetery.

An automobile delivery wagon draped with black, was used as a hearse. The widow and a few friends followed in automobiles. It was not a long funeral procession for Schuller's friends are poor people but it told an unusual story of a man's long and grateful life, at least in part after his death.

Schuller a poor machinist was ambitious to ride in and own an automobile and labored for years on the model of a machine which was to be the poor man's automobile, but he died before its completion.

BRIDEGROOM MISSING FROM HIS WEDDING CANNOT BE LOCATED

Bride and One Hundred Guests Wait in Vain for Appearance of Young Colorado Attorney.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—Nearly 100 wedding guests and the intended bride, Miss Laura Schroll daughter of a Newport Ky bank president were disappointed last night when the time for the marriage of Miss Schroll to Harlan Bailey, a Sulphur Springs, Colo., attorney, arrived and the bridegroom failed to put in an appearance. The ceremony was to have been performed at 6 o'clock and the clergyman was on hand to officiate, but Bailey came not. Rather than disappoint the guests completely the harp and violins played and the wedding luncheon was enjoyed.

The intended bride did not participate in the wedding feast, however. She is heartbroken and put in most of the evening in her room weeping. Early yesterday morning a telegram came from Bailey, dated Chicago, saying that he would surely arrive in time for the ceremony. Miss Schroll then procured the license. Up to noon today Bailey was still missing.

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 29.—Considerable anxiety exists here over the mysterious disappearance of Harlan Bailey, member of the law firm of Howard & Bailey, local counsel for the Moffat Railroad. Bailey was booked to be in Cincinnati, O., last night, where he was to have been married to Miss Laura Schroll, a prominent young society woman of that place. A telegram from Cincinnati was received this morning asking for information concerning Bailey's whereabouts.

Attorney Howard the missing young lawyer's partner, cannot explain Bailey's absence, but does not think anything serious has happened to him. He said:

"Bailey left here for Denver several days ago to collect a bill our firm had against the Moffat line. He expected to use his portion of this money when collected to go on to Cincinnati, where he was to be married last night to Laura Schroll to whom he has been engaged for a long time. I have not heard from Bailey since he left, but

YETZO BELLES HAVE BEARDS

Women Also Raise Moustaches
Although Process Involves Great Torture.

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 29.—Where moustaches are considered a sign of beauty among women some really luxuriant beards are cultivated by the weaker sex and in order to be in the swim a belle must pay a great deal of attention to the proper curling of the hirsute ornament. This strange land is the island of Yetzo, the home of the few thousand remaining members of the hairy Ainu, the aborigines of Japan. Women who are not adorned with moustaches by nature undergo great torture in having artificial ones tutored.

The aborigines of Japan, the hairy Ainu, now number but a few thousand, and live on the island of Yetzo. Their women tattoo their lips. The process of tattooing is very primitive and simple, and it takes several years to properly decorate a woman's lips, forehead and fingers. Some ash bark is procured and put into a pan to soak for a day or two; then the bark of the birch is burned under the pan until the bottom is well blackened. Next, the operator takes a knife, cuts a few dashes into the part to be tattooed, rubs it well with the soot and bathes it carefully with the ash bark liquid. The forehead, hands and arms are only tattooed after marriage.

DENVER, Sept. 29.—"Pigeon mating is beautiful," says Miss Edith Smith, an 18-year-old girl whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith, moved to Colorado last spring on account of her ill health. To satisfy her wishes and to keep her out of doors her father bought a forty-acre farm near Littleton, where Miss Smith devotes herself to raising fancy pigeons.

Miss Smith studies the pigeons nearly all day, and says she has discovered they are more true in their mating than any other animals. The female lays only two eggs at a time, which, if no injury comes to them, develop into infant pigeons already mated, one being male, the other female.

POLICE WILL STUDY SIN SCIENTIFICALLY

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—The police authorities are establishing an important new department, to be called the Central Police Scientific Institution. Its aim is to provide officers with a highly specialized training in the detection of crime. The classes will meet twice a week, when the officers will bring before the pupils elaborate reports of crimes committed. Every circumstance such as the traces left by the criminals, the evidence of witness and the measures taken for the capture of the offenders, will be minutely studied. Special attention will be devoted to unsolved crimes and the reasons why criminals are not caught, with a view to more successful pursuit in the future. It is believed that the cumulative experience in hundreds of cases will prove of the highest value. It is intended to make this course of study obligatory for officers entering the criminal department. Similar institutions will be started throughout the country for the gendarmes and local police.

lonely pigeon is brought into the world, which is almost certain to be doored to the life of an old maid or bachelor.

When the unmated quail begins to hop about, the old folks get as busy as those in any society and hunt around for a companion for it. Going to all he needs of their friends, they ascertain whether another family has met with a similar misfortune. Should another unlucky squab prove to be the right sex, the parents immediately make an agreement and the young ones pair.

The worst fate that can befall a pigeon is to be left unmated. If a bachelor is caught flirting with another male's mate, all the males jump on him and either peck him to death or leave him disabled for life. If a female is incapable of laying eggs, she is pecked out of the court yard.

One thing that a male pigeon will not stand for is a lazy female. The two have separate nests, although the same apartment. A female that is not inclined to work is pecked by the male until she does get to work. Excepting when he goes to bed, at which time the male sits on the nest, she is not allowed to leave, or if she does she is driven swiftly back by her mate. In an up-to-date house hold eleven pairs of young ones are raised each year.

Miss Smith has 1500 pigeons under her care—pure bred Homers and white turtled. The breeders vary in value, estimated from $4 to $150 a pair. She has a large wooden house, 25 by 75 feet, where the pigeons nest, and a flying pen 60 by 80 feet covered with wire netting.

Twenty acres of the farm are devoted to raising grain and millet for the pigeons; the other twenty acres have been put into an orchard of apples, cherries and English walnuts. Mr. Smith is a representative of the Land Improvement and Investment Company of Kansas City, and is there most of the time.

FIVE HUNDRED REALTY TRANSFERS RECORDED IN ONE WEEK

MAKING BEAUTIFUL THINGS AND PLACES

Reviving Parks and Erecting Posts and Standards Instead of Ghastly Poles.

Regardless of the fact that Oakland has been known as the city of schools and as a consequence at the center of culture and refinement, at the same time there is a pronounced advance being made every day in the direction of what may be termed aestheticism in civic affairs which is to be commenced and which will eventually give Oakland a grateful reputation all over the country.

There is no reason why there may not be something of beauty in the articles which must be used for practical purposes every day and it is the realization of this fact that has caused the more in civic adornment which the city is now experiencing. The first move in this direction was made when it was decided to put the lines of the various electrical companies under ground. At first, the companies objected on the ground of the increased expense of making the proposed improvement. Those concerns felt that it would be cheaper to maintain unsightly poles regardless of their appearance and the same time the safety of those who might accidentally come in contact with their wires. It was made patent to them, however, that it was to their advantage to place their wires under ground and, as a consequence, there are none of them now which does not feel that, in the end, it is cheaper for them to put their wires out of sight at the very earliest moment possible.

EXIT MASTS.
With the wires under ground there is no more business for the great, unsightly poles and masts on which are lamps formerly swung or on which hundreds of wires were strung. These have practically disappeared or will as soon as the conduits which are now being constructed in many parts of the city are completed. The masts and poles are to be supplanted by iron standards of beautiful design and with branching arms which will be attractive during the day and, during the day and during the night, when holding flaming globes, will be a sight to delight every beholder. These standards will be erected soon and the effect will be grateful to everybody, especially to those whose enterprise has made their erection possible.

MORE OF BEAUTY.
But aestheticism is not to stop here. It is to be carried to the point which is hereafter to be used for the purpose of supporting the fire alarm boxes of the city. For years, it has been the practice of the city to put its boxes for the sounding of an alarm of fire on the side of houses where they are merely tolerated by the householder or on ghastly poles at the intersection of a couple of streets. In both cases, the placing of the box was patently borne with because it was considered a necessity. But that toleration will no longer be required of the citizen. The time has arrived for the citizen to feel that there is no good reason why his house should be disgraced by an unattractive iron box which is intended to be of service to a large number of people or why an attractive neighborhood should be marred by a ghastly mast which is tolerated simply because it serves a useful purpose. Even a prosaic fire alarm box may be made attractive and the pole or standard supporting it may be made a thing of beauty.

IDEA OF ADMINISTRATION.

It is this idea which the present administration of this city is trying to develop. With this end in view the Board of Public Works has adopted a standard for the fire alarm boxes of this city and asked the Council to appropriate money for the purpose of securing the same. These standards will be ornate and, in a general way, will resemble the electric light standards but they will not have either their height or weight. The box will be placed at the top and will attract instead of repelling the attention of people as has been the case in the past.

The standard which has met with the favor of the Board in question has in it all the elements of beauty which might be expected in an article of that kind and is much more attractive than the pole, which is now used in Los Angeles and some of the other cities in the southern part of the State.

BEAUTY IN THE PLAZA.

Another feature of public life in which there has been within the past few weeks an element of beauty infused is the plaza adjoining the City Hall. For years, this breathing spot had been allowed to run to seed. No money was expended on it and the several gardeners who had been in charge of it did little more than draw their salary for perfunctory performance of the work of caring for it. For a time after the great fire in San Francisco, it became a refuge for all kinds of people, bad as well as good, and as a consequence, an eyecore. Loafers lay upon the sward for hours at a time and finally it became a resort in which decent people would not like to be found.

MAYOR'S EFFORT.

Mayor Mott saw that the plaza was far from realizing the purposes for which it was intended and brought the matter to the attention of the Board of Public Works. With the result that the place is rapidly becoming one of the prettiest places in this city. The plaza has ceased to be the resort of all kinds of characters and, as a consequence, it is gradually approaching a realization of the original intent of the planners who founded it. The old oaks have been removed, a margin of fresh sod has been laid around the outline and the main part of the enclosure has been seeded with the purpose of creating a new surface of emerald. Besides, there have been planted a number of native uovers and shrubs which already present so attractive an appearance as to be greatly admired by every passerby. But this work of beautifying public places and things will not stop here. It is the intention of the administration to effect similar reforms in other departments and there is no doubt that every change will enhance this city in the estimation of not only the local residents but also the visitors from other parts of the country.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE WHICH IS TO BE CONSTRUCTED ON MAGNOLIA, NEAR FOURTEENTH STREET—FRED SODERBERG, ARCHITECT.

INDUSTRIES LINING OAKLAND HARBOR

Nearly Every Foot on Either Side Is Pre-empted for Enterprises of Great Moment.

A better aggregation of citizens could not have been selected for the purpose of showing the harbor of this city to Congressman Randall than that which, on Saturday last, made the trip with the well-known Congressman from Louisiana. There is no doubt that they made an excellent showing and that they impressed the visitor with the fact that this city is entitled to even greater assistance in the matter of the improvement of the harbor.

FAVORS HARBOR.

Mr. Randall comes from a part of the country which is interested in the maintenance of good harbors and it is natural for him to take an interest in the improvement of the harbor in this part of the country. The gentleman impressed every person on the trip with the fact that he was seeking information and that when he got the facts he would deal fairly and squarely with the matter in hand.

WITH PREJUDICE.

This cannot be said of some of the Congressmen who had preceded him on similar visits to this city. Some of these it is painful to recall, come here with prejudices which they had received through the misrepresentation of people who were hostile to this city and who held that the harbor at this time is a source of expense to this municipality alone.

No such prejudice found lodgment in the breast of Congressman Randall. He stated openly that there had been a great deal of development on Oakland harbor and that there was no doubt that, according as that development increased, Congress would deal liberally in the matter of appropriations.

It was Mr. Randall's first visit to this city and the circumstances which he grasped the situation with a readiness which was greatly appreciated by those with whom he came in contact. In the party were three gentlemen who, among others, were especially well qualified to give information regarding the harbor, and they were Hugh Hogan of the Hogan Lumber Company; James L. de Fremery, who has large projects in course of realization on the eastern side of the harbor; and W. S. Conroy of the Union Gas Engine Company, which has a very large plant already erected on the harbor in the vicinity of Park street.

EVERY FOOT PRE-EMPTED.

These gentlemen showed Mr. Randall, (4), southeast corner of Thirtieth and Grove; $6500.

STREET SIGNS NOW COMING

Durable Devices to Show Where Local Thoroughfares are Located.

New, modern and durable street signs are at length to be erected in this city, and it is certain that they will be equal to the best to be found in the most progressive city in the country. The Council has appropriated the money, the signs have been ordered, and it is now only a matter of a few weeks until the contractors will be able to deliver the goods.

This is a consummation devoutly to be wished for, because, for years, the people of this city have endured all kinds of inconvenience because of the shameful manner in which the location of streets was indicated. In many instances people did not know the name of the street adjacent to the street on

HOGAN BUYS LAND.

It was shown at the same time that Hugh Hogan had only a short time before acquired an additional piece of property on the harbor for the purpose of accommodating the great traffic which that gentleman is now doing in the lumber business. Still further to the east, it was shown that the Taylor Lumber Company had already secured land and was about to open one of the largest lumber yards on this side of the bay.

OTHER INDUSTRIES.

Still further to the east was found the great building of the Standard Gas Engine Company, which is now being rushed to completion. Adjoining that was the great cluster of buildings belonging to the Union Gas Engine Company, and to this cluster three more structures are now being added. In the same vicinity, but on the southern side of the estuary, there are a number of manufacturing, all of which give employment to hundreds of men, most of whom reside on the Oakland side of the harbor.

Congressman Randall said it was the part of the Government to encourage industries of this kind and that one way to do that was to enable them to receive and ship their goods by water when there was a water-way in their vicinity which could be used for that purpose.

This statement was consoling to the Oakland people, and there was no doubt entertained that Congressman Knowland would have a friend and an able ally in Congress when he makes an attempt to secure another appropriation for the betterment of the harbor of this city.

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., writes the following statement: "A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on his hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to me for relief. I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by Osgood Brothers, Broadway, corner of Seventh and Washington, corner Twelfth.

NEW MARKING.

The proposed street signs will be all of metal. They cannot be affected by the elements nor broken by hoodlums or mischievous boys. They will be of a four-way character and may be read from any direction. The lettering will be of white enamel showing through stencils on a blue ground. The signs will be so constructed that they may be fixed on the walls of a house or fastened to telegraph or trolley poles or to poles expressly made for them. Those which will be fastened to brackets will cost $2.50 apiece and those mounted on special poles will cost $4.50 each. The appropriation for this purpose was $2500, and with this amount 800 signs will be procured. The first installment received will be used in designating main streets and avenues in various parts of the city. When mounted the signs will be seven feet above the sidewalk.

For Family Colds

A reliable Cough and Cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear. It is always easy, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning. It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been used for thousands of years, and tens of thousands of homes in the United States and Canada today are never without it.

"We are now in family. We have bought many bottles of Shiloh's Consumption Cure. It is safe and reliable and it does it—like Mary E. Apple, Cambridge, N.Y."

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that just? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine.

REALTY SALES MADE WITH GREAT EASE

Dealers Have Little Difficulty in Disposing of Property to Anxious Purchasers.

Each week seems to be a record breaker in the realty business. Last week was supposed to have reached the turning point, but in everything denoting prosperity the records of that have been exceeded by those of the present week. This activity has been noticed by the average citizen and it has been so especially to the citizen who takes an interest in the advancement of this community. The liberal patronage bestowed on the advertising columns of THE TRIBUNE by the realty dealers of this city shows a continuation of the interest in the business which was aroused many months ago by the careful presentation of the claims of this city to be recognized as a place for the home, the school, the church, the commercial house and the manufactory.

During these months it is safe to say that more of these evidences of civilization have been established in this city than in any other city on the Pacific coast.

ANTECEDENT DISASTER.

This remarkable growth does not date from the time of the disaster to San Francisco. It antedates that unfortunate event and is still in progress, regardless of the fact that months have elapsed since then, as also despite the fact that hundreds who came to realize here temporarily have returned to the other side of the bay. There is really a stronger demand for all kinds of property, improved and unimproved, than there has ever before been known in the history of the city. Where formerly weeks would elapse in consummating a sale, greater results are now experienced in a few days.

A number of hours' real estate men are employing men to solicit property for the purpose of listing it in order to enable them to meet the demands for choice property which is being made on all sides and from all quarters.

BIG SALE.

The demand, as a general thing, is made by people from outside the city, although there has been a little local purchases made by local residents, not, however, for speculative purposes, but for the purpose of building homes.

The most important transaction of the week was the sale of the property at the southwest corner of Broadway and Tenth street, which was made by J. H. MacDonald & Co. The price was $200,000. This property has a frontage on Broadway of 100 feet and a similar frontage on Tenth street. It comprises the north half of what was formerly the DeLong block. After the death of the owner, the late Fred DeLong, the property went to the daughters of the deceased, the authentic half becoming the property of Mrs. Matilda DeLong and the northern half going to Mrs. Strobridge. About a year ago the ladies sold their respective holdings, the southern half being bought by a gentleman from Salt Lake City, who has since become a resident of this city. The price which it is said was paid for the block of 100 feet, it is claimed, however, that this price was only $200,000. The northern half of the block has always been considered as the more valuable of the two parts, which it has just brought in at the rate of $200,000 per foot, which is a great increase over the price which was paid for the best property in that section since the building was constructed. The highest price paid for realty in that neighborhood was that of $110,000 which was given for the block on the northeast corner of the same intersection about a year ago.

Another important deal was the purchase by A. J. Snyder of twenty acres of land in the northern part of the city, for about $60,000. It is Mr. Snyder's intention to place this property on the market at the earliest moment possible.

There has been an active demand for property in the southern part of the city on the part of the residents of this city, who have taken up their abode in that section, and recently there has been some inquiry in that section for property on which it is said that a Chinese theater will be established. While the demand is brisk in all parts of the city, there is more than the usual activity in the northern part of the town. There is little speculation in sight and, as a consequence, the sales which are made are made to people who intend to improve their purchases by the erection thereon of homes.

C. JURGENS' NEW BLOCK

Modern Business Structure on Thirteenth Street to Cost $50,000.

Another evidence of the growing importance of Thirteenth street as a business thoroughfare is found in the fact that Charles Jurgens, the well known capitalist, has commenced the construction of a new building on that street which is to cost $50,000, and which will be one of the finest business houses in this city.

Stratton, a non-resident, who purchased the property today for $30,000.

MILLIONS OF EASTERN CAPITAL COMING TO CITY OF OAKLAND

UNWONTED ACTIVITY IN BUILDING WORK

Showing How Oakland Is Responding to Demand for Rooms and Permanent Homes.

The present week has shown considerable activity in the building line. There have been almost 175 permits issued for the construction of new buildings or for the repair and enlargement of old ones, and this showing compares well with that of any week since the great disaster in San Francisco. In so far as the monetary value of the improvements is concerned, the showing does not come up to the figures of last week, but at the same time there is little difference in the number of new buildings which have been provided for, and it is that fact which goes to show that there is a gradual growth in this community and that the growth is of a healthy and stable character.

No large buildings have been provided for, but homes have been supplied for at least one hundred families and homes and abiding-places are what are now in greater demand in this section.

INCREASING ACCOMMODATIONS. Regardless of the individual buildings, the fact remains that the Board of Public Works, there have been repairs and additions to old buildings which will increase the housing capacity of this city by several hundred. In round numbers, there have been nearly five hundred rooms added to the sheltering resources of this city and, as a consequence, there has been a gratifying effort to satisfy the demand for quarters which has been felt here ever since the disaster on the other side of the bay. The cost of the proposed improvements will be $184,000, and this will go to the enrichment of the laborer and skilled artisan during the months of winter, because there are indications at the present time, that there will be an open winter and that the work of development will be continued without cessation until there will be homes here for all who may decide to take up their homes in this section of the State.

PRECEDING CONTRACTS. Aside from the work provided for by the permits of this week there is unwonted activity in the building line in all parts of the city. Buildings of the most substantial character are going up in many sections and there seems to be a desire to make them as durable as possible, showing that the people have profited by the experience of April last.

WARD LEADERSHIP. Last week the palm of leadership in structural work was given to the Second Ward, but that was mainly because that section of the city was credited with the construction of a hotel at Twenty-second street and Broadway, the cost of which was set at $100,000. This week, however, the First Ward resumes the leadership, which it has held almost uninterruptedly for a number of months. It has taken out permits for the erection of buildings which will cost, according to the estimates of the builders, $70,531. This amount is in excess of that of any preceding showing of the ward and indicates that, as the weeks go by, there is a steady increase in the building industry in that section.

The Sixth Ward makes a fair showing standing second in the column and establishing the fact that there is in that section a commercial and manufacturing development, which augurs well for the business men of the community.

Even the Third and Fourth wards which for a long time seemed to have been outside the line of progress, make, comparatively speaking, a fair showing.

BY WARDS. The figures by wards are as follows:
First Ward $70,531
Second Ward 25,371
Third Ward 14,135
Fourth Ward 10,335
Fifth Ward 21,350
Sixth Ward 27,269
Seventh Ward 15,285

KINDS OF STRUCTURES. A more varied list of new structures has not appeared in this department of THE TRIBUNE. It shows the diversity of tastes and callings which are allied in the development of Oakland, as follows:

TRANSFERS ON INCREASE

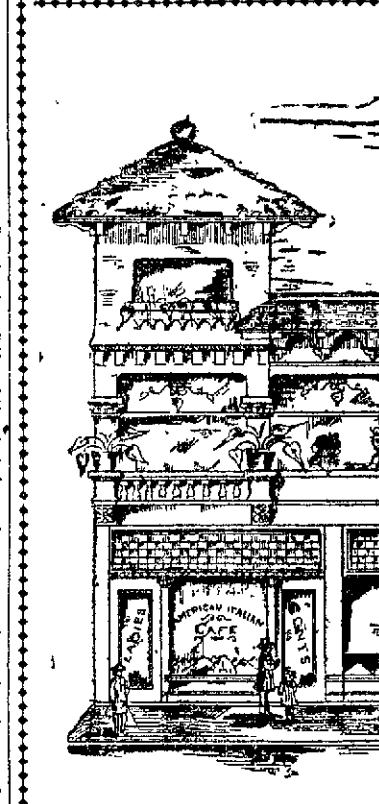

Number Filed This Week Exceeded Those Recorded One Week Ago.

In the office of the County Recorder this week was felt the impulse caused by activity in the realty world and the influx of new residents to this city. The full force of the demands was kept busy attending to the papers of those who wished to have instruments filed of record. The total number of instruments handled was in excess of that of last week, notwithstanding it was supposed the limit had then been reached. There were 1114 documents disposed of, an increase of 49 over that of a week ago. The showing by days was as follows:

Friday	168
Saturday (half-holiday)	115
Monday	224
Tuesday	183
Wednesday	208
Thursday	211

Total 1114
Of these instruments, 491 were deeds, showing that there were that number of legitimate real estate transactions. It is to be regretted that the value of those transfers cannot be given, for the reason that the real consideration of the sale is never given in the deeds placed on record. The consideration given is usually $10, but everybody knows that the statement is not given credence.

ROOF GARDEN UNDER WAY

Feature of New York Life Will Be Erected by American-Italian Restaurant.

The American-Italian restaurant on Tenth street, between Broadway and Washington street, is to establish a roof garden as one of its features and the proprietor has adopted a very practical design for the same, furnished by Architect T. D. Newsom, a view of which appears herewith. The dining-room will be located on this roof. It will have dimensions of 41x55 feet. Then there will be a banquet hall 16x55 feet, with an orchestra stand and balcony. The structure will be of the Flemish style of architecture and will have a frontage of eighty feet on Sixteenth street. It will be constructed of steel and glass and will be made as attractive as possible as the delight of people who can appreciate the good things of life. The cost of the improvement will be $25,000. Manager Nigro was in business in San Francisco before the fire, but has decided to remain in Oakland because he has been able to do an excellent business here and because also he likes the climate and the people.

In the same time, there were 94 deeds of trust filed, representing $163,935, as against $156,000 for last week. There were 109 mortgages given, covering borrowings amounting to $369,097. The mortgages released numbered 128, as against 101 for the preceding seven days, representing $173,283, while the amount released one week ago amounted to only $116,202.

ALAMEDA'S NEW BANK
Alameda will have one of the most important reinforced concrete buildings in the county when the new Citizens' bank of that place is finished, at Park street and Santa Clara avenue. A picture of the building will be found in this department.
The new bank will be entirely of reinforced concrete, the same style of construction being followed that is making a new type of structures of this sort in the Engineering Record building in New York.
The leading experts of the East planned the Engineering Record building as the highest modern type of reinforced concrete construction. Building B. Gilbreth, and the Underwriters' Engineering and Construction Company received the contract after months of competition.
The same building organization, which has located an office in San Francisco, will erect the Alameda bank. Professor Lewis J. Johnson of the civil engineering department of Harvard University, and Charles L. Norton, professor of heat measurements at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, are the consulting engineers on the work. Oliver & Foules of San Francisco are the architects.
The foundations of the new bank were started this week and the forms for the concrete and steel rod reinforcement will be put up in a few weeks. It is expected that the bank will be finished within two months.

Although THE TRIBUNE devotes a great deal of space every week to the growth and development of Oakland, it finds it impossible to give more than a faint idea of the efforts which are being made by the business men and capitalists of this city to enable Oakland and Oaklanders to realize and benefit by the opportunity which has now been afforded to the one to win fame and to the other to achieve fortunes.
Charles H. King, the East Oakland capitalist, has held that the section of the city which he has so long resided would eventually become as populous and successful as any other part of this city. The certainty that a hotel on a magnificent scale is to be established in the vicinity of Thirteenth and Harrison and Alce streets has insured to the advancement of the eastern part of the city, because to reach that section the hotel must be passed and the proximity of the structure would think for a moment of making that quarter the attention of many of those most liberally endowed with the goods of the world, both residents of this city and of those who are yet to come to make Oakland their home.

BUILD EIGHT STORIES.
C. H. King told THE TRIBUNE representative today that the days of the old Ramona hotel at the corner of Twelfth and Thirteenth streets had been numbered. With a modern and palatial hotel at the opposite corner, no good business man would think for a moment of making that quarter the attention of many of those most liberally endowed with the goods of the world, both residents of this city and of those who are yet to come to make Oakland their home.

RAISING OF RENTS.
There has been quite a rise in the rents in a number of places in the business district, but the fact that the demand is so great that the lessees are doing the business which the increase demands.

ONE THOUSAND A MONTH.
Three years ago the Owl Drug Company leased the first story of the Canning block at the southwest corner of Thirteenth street and Broadway and agreed to pay a monthly rental of $300. The lease was for five years and there are two of those years yet to run. A new lease, however, has been made for the next five years, in connection with the two years yet to run, give the Owl Drug Company a hold on the premises for the next seven years, but at a monthly rental of $1,000 per month. This is the highest rental paid by any single store in that section of the city.

ANOTHER THOUSAND A MONTH.
There has also been a change in the rents in the building at the northwest corner of Ninth and Washington streets, which comprises the Brunswick hotel, the remainder above store, the Ambros grocery on the corner of the intersection, a barber shop and an insurance office. All of these places have done a fine business by reason of the increased popularity of this city. Recently the property came into the possession of George Roth, and now Mr. Roth has decided to raise the rents referred to has taken a lease from Mr. Roth for the whole building at the rate of $1,000 per month. In this connection,

ALAMEDA'S NEW BANK

Encinal to Have Financial Home Which Will Be Built on Modern Lines.

Alameda will have one of the most important reinforced concrete buildings in the county when the new Citizens' bank of that place is finished, at Park street and Santa Clara avenue. A picture of the building will be found in this department.
The new bank will be entirely of reinforced concrete, the same style of construction being followed that is making a new type of structures of this sort in the Engineering Record building in New York.

MINISTERS AND PUNISHMENT.
"One very funny thing came to me personally," said the minister, "and that is that the practice of taking the earthquake and fire of San Francisco for an object lesson on the penalty of wickedness. Many of them have wandered from their pulpits in San Francisco and destroyed because it was so awfully wicked and that Oakland was saved because it is such a good city, where every block is decorated with the tall spire of a church. This kind of talk has made quite an impression and of itself has undoubtedly induced many people to come to a city which is so good that it is protected from calamity by the divine influence."

KNOW OAKLAND.
There is no decrease of interest in Oakland here, but it is a fact that while everybody knows now that we have a great big city here, there must have been a great many who never heard of us prior to April 18. I have heard several men say that when they read in the dispatches that one hundred and fifty thousand refugees were being cared for in Oakland, they looked at the map to find the locality of Oakland and found that it was within seven miles of San Francisco. I have heard that period of ignorance is all passed, and it is more than gratifying to hear bankers and people with money all talking about Oakland and saying that their advice is to the effect that it is today one of the best sections for investment in the western country.

COMING TO OAKLAND.
"I have made engagements with eleven people all of whom have determined to come to this section. They passed from San Francisco to one hundred thousand dollars each, and they are coming here to invest. I have no doubt that within the next two or three months, I shall be able to tell you of several of these clients having been here and taking an interest in our development."
"I know it's an old story, but it is true, that the east thinks we have no hotels. I heard it everywhere, and on the railroads we only had a hotel for miles in San Francisco to reserve apartments for them, and they told me that they were sorry they had to do it because they would much rather stay in Oakland than in San Francisco. They told me that you can depend upon it that party did not go to the St. Francis, and are now in one of our family hotels. The very best thing Oakland can do is to expand the fact all through the city, in building big tourist hotels. But they all know we have a harbor. They all seem to know that all the big railroads have their terminals here, they know this is the location of the great big city of California, and they are never tired of expatiating about our glorious climate. They all realize that it is a safe proposition to put money in or almost anything in Oakland, but after their last visit here, they are really wind up with, 'why don't you get some big hotels'."

TO INVEST MILLION IN OAKLAND REALTY

Walter E. Logan Returns From the East and Tells of Financiers Coming to This City.

New ideas are continually being brought from the east regarding the new conditions that have prevailed here since April 18.
Walter E. Logan, the broker and real estate man, has just returned from a business trip to Chicago and New York, and booster as he was before he went, he returns with renewed enthusiasm created by what he heard and saw during the past month, thousands of miles from home.
"It's no use talking," said Mr. Logan, "the people in the east regard Oakland as the real thing. I went to New York to put through a deal involving $750,000 worth of Oakland property and can say that I saw a million of money that will be invested here within the next six months. When I say that I saw it, I mean that I met and talked with the men who are turning their holdings in cash into the sole purpose of investing it in Oakland and surroundings. In Michigan I met some families who had been scared from San Francisco by the earthquake, and they arrived just in time to meet another earthquake, even more severe. When I last saw them they were aboard the train returning to the coast, and this I learned is what thousands are doing all the time."

MINISTERS AND PUNISHMENT.
"One very funny thing came to me personally," said the minister, "and that is that the practice of taking the earthquake and fire of San Francisco for an object lesson on the penalty of wickedness. Many of them have wandered from their pulpits in San Francisco and destroyed because it was so awfully wicked and that Oakland was saved because it is such a good city, where every block is decorated with the tall spire of a church. This kind of talk has made quite an impression and of itself has undoubtedly induced many people to come to a city which is so good that it is protected from calamity by the divine influence."

KNOW OAKLAND.
There is no decrease of interest in Oakland here, but it is a fact that while everybody knows now that we have a great big city here, there must

C. H. KING TO BUILD EIGHT-STORY BLOCK
Structure to Go Up on Ramona Site After Labor Troubles Shall Have Been Settled.

Although THE TRIBUNE devotes a great deal of space every week to the growth and development of Oakland, it finds it impossible to give more than a faint idea of the efforts which are being made by the business men and capitalists of this city to enable Oakland and Oaklanders to realize and benefit by the opportunity which has now been afforded to the one to win fame and to the other to achieve fortunes.
Charles H. King, the East Oakland capitalist, has held that the section of the city which he has so long resided would eventually become as populous and successful as any other part of this city. The certainty that a hotel on a magnificent scale is to be established in the vicinity of Thirteenth and Harrison and Alce streets has insured to the advancement of the eastern part of the city, because to reach that section the hotel must be passed and the proximity of the structure would think for a moment of making that quarter the attention of many of those most liberally endowed with the goods of the world, both residents of this city and of those who are yet to come to make Oakland their home.

BUILD EIGHT STORIES.
C. H. King told THE TRIBUNE representative today that the days of the old Ramona hotel at the corner of Twelfth and Thirteenth streets had been numbered. With a modern and palatial hotel at the opposite corner, no good business man would think for a moment of making that quarter the attention of many of those most liberally endowed with the goods of the world, both residents of this city and of those who are yet to come to make Oakland their home.

RAISING OF RENTS.
There has been quite a rise in the rents in a number of places in the business district, but the fact that the demand is so great that the lessees are doing the business which the increase demands.

ONE THOUSAND A MONTH.
Three years ago the Owl Drug Company leased the first story of the Canning block at the southwest corner of Thirteenth street and Broadway and agreed to pay a monthly rental of $300. The lease was for five years and there are two of those years yet to run. A new lease, however, has been made for the next five years, in connection with the two years yet to run, give the Owl Drug Company a hold on the premises for the next seven years, but at a monthly rental of $1,000 per month. This is the highest rental paid by any single store in that section of the city.

ANOTHER THOUSAND A MONTH.
There has also been a change in the rents in the building at the northwest corner of Ninth and Washington streets, which comprises the Brunswick hotel, the remainder above store, the Ambros grocery on the corner of the intersection, a barber shop and an insurance office. All of these places have done a fine business by reason of the increased popularity of this city. Recently the property came into the possession of George Roth, and now Mr. Roth has decided to raise the rents referred to has taken a lease from Mr. Roth for the whole building at the rate of $1,000 per month. In this connection,

GOSSIP FROM THE SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

THE CALHOUNS AND THE SOUTHERNERS

Mrs. Patrick Calhoun and her family have rubbed the brick dust of San Francisco out of their eyes and are once more within sniffing distance of the Baltimore canvasback. When the president of the United Railroads came out here to punch a few non-union fares he brought his family with him and rented a house in the fashionable residence district. Of course this was a strong peg upon which to hang the supposition that the Calhouns would winter here and the southern wing of society preened its feathers. The Calhouns are P. F. V. "and then some," for the street railway magnate is a lineal descendant of the great Patrick Calhoun. However, blue blood is more plentiful than water in the southland and it takes wealth like the Calhoun fortune to lift the family star out of the common firmament. Mrs. Voorhies, Mrs. White and the rest of the society promoters were counting on Mrs. Calhoun and her daughters to give a bead to the winter cup of social cheer, but Mrs. Calhoun had other plans. She and her husband are devoted to each other and object to the separations which his varied business interests entail. As his presence will be necessary in San Francisco off and on as long as he retains control of the street cars they determined to rent a house so that he might escape the overcrowded hotels. This enables Mrs. Calhoun and her family to make flying visits out here but they are not to be listed as permanent, wherefore the leaders of the southern set are misty eyed.—Town Talk.

McEWEN FATHER-IN-LAW TO MILLIONAIRE'S SON

Arthur McEwen has long been fulminating in the largest Hearst type against the predatory rich. Now that his daughter Madge has married a New York millionaire it will be interesting to see if McEwen's pen will continue to drip diatribes against the robber barons. Miss McEwen was educated in a fashionable New York school which is out of joint with McEwen's professional philosophy. In his new role as father-in-law to a million perhaps he will prune his vocabulary of such phrases as pulpy plutocrats, predatory rich, and mushroom aristocracy. The marriage was celebrated a week or two ago in New York, where the McEwens are now living. The bride is a very handsome girl. She spent last winter out here and was extensively entertained by the friends of the Michelson family. Her mother is a sister of Miriam Michelson, the authoress, and Charles Michelson the brilliant young managing editor of the Examiner.—Town Talk.

DOOLEY AND MISS CRAWLEY

Constance Crawley, the noted English actress whose interpretations of Shakespeare and Ibsen have made her famous, acted in a little comedy of real life in which a diminutive monkey played chief role at the Hotel Athens in Oakland a few days ago. The monkey is Miss Crawley's pet and inseparable companion on her tours and she smuggled it into her room in the hostelry in a hat-box. The Athens is the abode of some of Oakland's smartest families and Miss Crawley knows that society has been very sensitive about monkeys since the monkey dinner at Newport some years ago. This is why she did not take the clerk into her confidence. But a put such as Miss Crawley's is very difficult to keep hidden and an inquisitive bellboy soon learned of its presence. The hotel clerk was most deferential in requesting the actress to remove the monkey to the basement of the Athens, where, she was assured, it would receive the most considerate treatment. The actress replied with a stare that would have frozen solid anyone but a hotel clerk. A little later the actress led a picturesque pilgrimage of her theatrical troupe through the streets of Oakland from the Athens to the Metropole. The name of the little animal of which Miss Crawley is so fond is Dooley.—Town Talk.

SNUBBING THE CO-ED.

Co-education bids fair to die at its own hands in Berkeley. The senior men have built a little log cabin which they call "Senior Hall," a little shelter in all the great university where they can escape the women. The senior women have retorted with a truly feminine "slam," and called the men "tight," in consequence of which the women will be their own escorts to college functions.—Town Talk.

WILLIAM F. HERRIN.

It is evidently the consensus of opinion in all political parties operating in this State at present that William F. Herrin, chief counselor of the Southern Pacific Company, is a man of tremendous power. All the small job-chasers appear to have come to that conclusion, and from the energy with which they are training their pop-guns on him one might infer that it would be impossible to conceive of a better way to vindicate their ability to fill the positions to which they fondly hope to be elected. They are making Mr. Herrin an object of considerable interest, but he is such an unobtrusive individual that he is assuming the aspect of a mythical personality. He never makes ostentatious display of his power. But he wields greater power than any man that ever shaped the politics of this State. And he wields it with a stricter regard for the interests of the public than was ever before exhibited by the master of a political machine in this or perhaps any other State. This is a very broad assertion, but I think it will be corroborated by many men who are not associated with Mr. Herrin in politics and who are familiar with the political methods in vogue throughout the country. The idealists in politics condemn all political machines, but even the idealists acknowledge that they are the inevitable result of our imperfect government. The shrewd men among them are not deceived by the sacrosanct job-chasers that proclaim their independence. They have seen too many of those pharisaical reformers proceed to build up machines of their own immediately after their election to office. William F. Herrin succeeded Creed Haymond as chief of the law department of the Southern Pacific and he was not long in reconstructing the political system that was so infamous during the life of Senator Stanford. Everybody familiar with the history of California politics knows that in the furtherance of his political interests that distinguished philanthropist surrounded himself with conscienceless agents who scattered the seeds of corruption from one end of the State to the other. The practice in those days was to elect none but bribe-takers to office and the whole State government was kept in a perpetual state of demoralization. William F. Herrin exterminated the whole Stanford crew of corruptionists and instituted an entire different system of politics.

Under the present system we have seen honest men elected to office. We have seen United States senators elected without debauching a legislature—an unprecedented phenomenon. To be sure their election was dictated by the machine, but they are pretty good men and we haven't heard of their doing anything dishonest. Under the system by which they were elected it was not deemed necessary to elect only the vicious to the legislature; nor did the legislature turn to and loot the State after selecting a senator. William F. Herrin has demonstrated that it is possible to run a pretty clean political machine, one that very nearly approximates an ideal "organization" to which the only serious objection that may be urged is that it does not permit an absolutely free expression of popular sentiment, an objection that I have no hesitation in overlooking since it is obvious that the machine system is inevitable while we select our servants through party conventions. Mr. Herrin has succeeded in perfecting the strongest "organization" that was ever in operation in this State. One by one he forced all the other political plants in the State out of existence, the destruction of each being attended by the enlistment of new recruits under the Herrin standard. He expanded the scope of his power until today it includes the political fortunes of two United States senators and the entire working paraphernalia of the eight congressional districts. And he is now in a fair way to take the gubernatorial machine into camp also, so that in all likelihood there will soon be no prospect of a serious clash of interests. None but a man of genius could achieve this great political triumph. Mr. Herrin is a lawyer of rare ability, a man of almost ascetic temperament, but genial and companionable, a close student of human nature and a warm and loyal friend. Slow to make promises, he keeps them with religious punctiliousness. Though a native of Oregon, and a graduate of the university of that State, he is a loyal Californian, and is tireless in his efforts to advance the interests of the State. The highest praise that I ever heard bestowed on him was given by the men and women who sought his assistance to persuade the legislature to make a State park of the Big Basin forest. He gave his assistance and Big Basin is now a State reservation.—Town Talk.

BURBANK'S DOOM.

Poor Burbank! He has at last been discovered by the fashionable herd, and it is therefore time to speculate on his finish. Mrs. Eleanor Martin, of that institution known as the Smart Set, ran an excursion up to Santa Rosa last week for the purpose of lorgnetting the wizard in his lair, and the inspection proved highly satisfactory all around. Mr. Burbank will soon be invited to officiate as central figure in an incense-burning function in one of the drawing-rooms of the elect so that the world may know that society appreciates the creator of the Shasta daisy, the breeder of the spineless cactus and the propagator of the infinite tuber. Mr. Burbank has survived the concentrated curiosity of many thousands of pop-eyed tourists, but the lure that now threatens to constrain him to the abandonment of his plants is fraught with consequences so enervating that they are not to be defied by the most robust of constitutions. I am mindful of the fate of Bobby Burns and I tremble for Burbank. Though the great poet knew that "rank is but the guinea stamp," lion-hunters, as Carlyle tells us, were the death of him. Even to the fastnesses of his farm they penetrated just as did our Smart Set to the recesses of the embowered laboratory of the plant grower. "They came to see a little amusement; they got their amusement; and the hero's life went for it."—Town Talk.

COLLEGE RUFFIANISM.

They appear to have abandoned Berkeley, for the present, that "code of honor" by which victims of assaults in college rushes are prohibited from informing on their assailants. This code was formerly tacitly approved by the faculty because acts of brutality were part of the "college tradition," and it is to be hoped that this "tradition" has been relegated to the oblivion of an innocuous desuetude. These assaults on helpless students by mobs of upper classmen are cowardly in the extreme; those who engage in these "rushes" and "hazing" exploits are thugs who would not dare to meet their victims man to man. There is no dishonor in complaining against them and demanding that they be expelled from the college or university. Brutes of this sort are unfit to associate with decent and manly Americans. If the students at the State university must fight on occasion let them fight fairly as their English prototypes fight—with fist or club; man fashion, not as the coyote fights, in packs of overwhelming numbers on one weak freshman or a little group of freshmen unable to defend themselves unless they resort to the pistol as they would be justified in doing when thus attacked. It would not be necessary to use the pistol on cowards of the sophomore class—the mere display of the weapon would be enough to put the entire gang to flight. I hope that some browbeaten, bullyragged, persecuted freshman will some day try the pistol antidote for the hazing proclivities of the upper classmen of the university. My word for it the first "inform" would be a bullying sophomore—the cherished "code of honor" in our State university was only for the freshmen in instances of this kind. Try it, and prove the validity of my statement. Honor! Honor among thugs! Bah!

WHEN THE "SOPH" IS AFRAID.

It is only when the freshman class is weak and docile that we hear of these ruffianly assaults by the sophomores. It happens occasionally that a "baby class" enters the university with muscles fully developed; with brawn to complement an average supply of brain; a crowd of young athletes from the harvest fields of Fresno and Stanislaus; rough riders from San Joaquin; potential half-backs and center-rushes from the redwoods of Mendocino and the grizzly-haunted canyons of El Dorado and Lassen—when a freshman class of this mettle marches upon the campus, the effete sophomore sneaks back into the shadow of the bleachers and resolves that he will behave himself during the semester. And until that bunch of fresh young gladiators are themselves sophomores we hear nothing from the university of "rushes," hazing or other brutality perpetrated on the "infant class." That shows how much "honor" or manhood there is in college "custom" and college "tradition." Not enough to screw the courage of three sophomores to the point of tackling one giant freshman!—Town Talk.

DISSATISFACTION IN THE MILITIA.

Continual statements appear in the daily press to the effect that great dissatisfaction exists in the California National Guard. So pronounced is this feeling that it is feared the entire Second Brigade will disintegrate. All of the officers in the First Coast Artillery have petitioned their commander, asking that the battalions be mustered out. The dissatisfaction has been accentuated by the testimony of Mayor Schmitz in the Transatlantic Insurance Company law suit. On the stand the mayor, as reported, said that he "did not call out the militia, and did not know the militia was in the city until four or five days after the fire." Some of the militia officers speak bitterly of the "calumnious assertions and scandalous charges made against the National Guard by the citizens of San Francisco." Concerning these, Major Francis Keesling, N. G. C., says: "I have come to the conclusion, as a result of the criticism during the recent calamity, that there must be some foundation in fact for the aspersions cast on the National Guard. The undesirable element certainly must be blamed for any criticism which has fallen on good and bad without discrimination during the last few months."

Why would it not be a good idea for Major Keesling to ask for a court of inquiry? If it were said that the community would not heed the judgment of such a court, if made up of the officers of the organization to be investigated, why not ask retired officers of the United States army to constitute such a tribunal? There is General Shafter for one. He was an excellent soldier and a rigid disciplinarian. He is now a citizen of California and has the good of the State at heart. Why not ask him to preside over a court of inquiry to be made up of retired army officers, their duty being to investigate the charges made against the California National Guard? If, as Major Keesling hints, there are some black sheep in an organization otherwise made up overwhelmingly of white ones, why not demonstrate that fact, and muster out the black sheep?—Argonaut.

PRICE'S MOVE.

Our old theatrical friend, E. D. Price, who was stamped out of San Francisco by the earthquake has hit on a brand new dance for advertising a star actress. He is working it in Chicago and causing blockades in the heart of the shopping district. In several show windows he has stationed pyrographic artists engaged in burning Lillian Russell's portrait into six foot basswood panels. Incidentally there are disclosed announcements of Miss Russell's engagement at the Illinois theater in "Barbara's Millions."

Among the womankind is an almost frenzied curiosity concerning Miss Russell, who never gets old and the peering throngs cause a crush calling for extra police details. Price, the inventor of this new publicity device, has been frantically imploring the police to run him in for obstructing the streets. He is sure that his arrest would help some.

"I'm a public nuisance," he assured the chief of the traffic squad. "Somebody please suppress me." Up to date, however, the police have contented themselves with prodding citizenesses with their clubs, and Price will soon move over to a new beat where public nuisances are more of a curiosity.—Wasp.

BUILDING OF LATIN QUARTER.

San Francisco's Latin Quarter will be rebuilt sooner than any other part of the city. In truth, it is rebuilding every day with marvelous rapidity. Not only in the Latin Quarter proper, but in the whole section of the city known as North Beach, the advance has been marvelous. From Broadway to the bay, and from Sansome street to Taylor, houses are springing up on every street. They are not unsubstantial, temporary shacks, but solid dwelling houses, far better on an average than could be found in the same neighborhood before the fire. What was a ramshackle part of town promises within a year or two to be a well-built section, almost as thickly inhabited as before. Not only are people putting up houses for themselves, but substantial blocks of flats are going up. Clear to the top of Telegraph Hill, perched on promontories, overhanging bluffs, built on the steep side hills, are cottages in front of which flowers are already blooming. These cottages are unpainted as yet, but they are homes. Business is keeping pace with all this. There is no need to worry about the business as long as the people are there. Stores follow quickly enough. The Italians are a thrifty lot, and many of them owned their own homes. They are property-holders in greater proportion than any other nationality. It may be that some of the scavenger wagon drivers or the keepers of tiny vegetable stalls do not look like ready money, but they have it, all the same, and they are bringing North Beach back to its original condition.—News Letter.

GILLET AND PARDEE.

The Democrats, Labor Unionists and Independence Leaguers are all chortling with glee that "Pardee will knife Gillett." The rumor is ridiculous. No doubt the Governor feels sore that he did not get the re-nomination. The way the anti-Pardee men in Alameda county and elsewhere have been ghost dancing since the convention is also not soothing. But he is too frank and honest a man to vote the ticket and repudiate his obligations. He went into the convention prepared to accept its support if he were nominated. Likewise he went into the convention prepared to support its nominee if he were not nominated. This we are convinced he will do. He is a good Republican and a straight, square man. As for the talk of Spear and the rest of the Governor's close friends who are in office "sulking in their tents," that is also unadulterated nonsense. Even putting their conduct on the lowest possible plane, what would they have to gain by open or concealed treachery to Gillett? Nothing at all. On the other hand every motive, including that of self-interest, impels them to support the ticket, and that is what they will do.—Argonaut.

STRANGE LANGUAGE.

Situated in the heart of Oakland's Oriental quarter is fittingly placed a religious denomination, the members of which have the gift of tongues. This gift is by no means a sham, as can be demonstrated every evening. Every conceivable sound can be heard when the adherents of the new belief are under the influence. This "influence" is the monopoly of one J. F. Manley. He also has a monopoly of the interpretation of the sounds and the proceeds of the collection. It is a question which receives his greatest attention.

The ceremony of "The Household of God" begins with Manley stepping forward and modestly saying that he is possessed of the Holy Ghost and inviting his audience to come forward individually or collectively and have a share. Usually a few dopes comply with the request, and the talking in various tongues begins. Manley "translates" these vocal absurdities into alleged English. Under the head of Russian, which two persons in the audience understood, were emitted sounds which would make the inventors of that language ashamed of themselves.

Chinese was "spoken" that is respectable Chinese would quarrel. Still Manley refused to argue the matter of dialects with a Chinese interpreter and his two friends. The Russians left the room a high dudgeon at the treatment their language had received.—News Letter.

BARBERS' UNION.

By an edict of the Barbers' Union of Oakland the man compelled to hasten to his office in the morning will have to do so with a beard like "quills upon the fretful porcupine." Every business man having anything to do with the tonsorial artists of the trans-bay metropolis has been complaining of the impossibility of getting an early shave, and the shop-owners took up the matter. It was decided by the proprietors that it would be well to start business at seven o'clock. This information was carried to the "help," who at once responded with the statement: "If you want the places opened earlier than eight o'clock open them yourselves." After a great deal of coaxing, the men were persuaded to call a special meeting of the union for the purpose of considering the question. It was finally decided that any business man desirous of an early shave would have to get a safety razor, as the extra sixty minutes in bed in the morning were necessary to the nerves of the knights of the lather.—News Letter.

NEW HOTEL.

As predicted in the News Letter two weeks ago, Oakland has developed beyond the stage of being content with having its first-class hotel on paper. Everything that will make for the upbuilding of a genuine caravansary to house intelligent persons has been done by the directorate, consisting of one representative from each of the nine banks, appointed to take the matter beyond the nebulous stage. One of the best blocks in the city has been secured for a site. It is bounded by Harrison, Alice, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

Nothing can now stand in the way of the hotel. It will not only be a credit to Oakland, but to the entire coast. Eminent architects will make the designs, which will be competitive. No provincialism will be allowed to interfere with making a choice of plans that have been conceived beyond the confines of Alameda county.

It is estimated that the building will cost one and one-half million dollars. The furnishings will cost a quarter of a million more.

Those who have pulled the project through thus far are W. W. Garthwaite, W. G. Palmanteer, W. G. Shaw, P. E. Bowles, Thomas Prather, Edson Adams, J. C. McMullin, D. E. Collins and H. C. Capwell. Building will begin at once.—News Letter.

QUESTION OF CUP RACE IS UP TO AMERICANS

BRITONS BELIEVE THAT CONCESSIONS SHOULD BE MADE

Designers Say That It Would Be Useless to Challenge At Present.

BY RICHARD DAHLGREN.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The question of whether Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge again for the America's cup will be decided now in a short time. Sir Thomas will go to New York next week and then the question will be reached. The whole matter is up to the American yachtmen. If they want a race they may have it, but the terms of the race must be so modified that the challenger will have some reasonable chance of winning. British yacht designers are convinced that under the terms as they now stand it is useless to challenge. Therefore, if the New Yorkers want a race they must make concessions.

That determined effort is being made to drive Danny Maher, the great American jockey from the English turf is certain. That it will be unsuccessful seems to be equally certain. Maher's skill, his perfect honesty and fair riding have made him immensely popular with the race-going public, and have made him powerful friends who are able to protect him against his enemies, who are numerous. Principally among the small class, who are steadily losing influence, who are jealous of all things American. At the recent meeting at York, Maher accidentally bumped the favorite in the race and put him out of the running. Danny was reprimanded by the stewards of the meeting. His enemies seized the opportunity and insisted on more drastic punishment at the hands of the Jockey club. Maher was exonerated. The decision of the Jockey club gave very general satisfaction.

JEFF WITHOUT A PEER, SAYS CORBETT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Jim Jeffries is the greatest heavy-weight fighter that ever lived, and he became the greatest in a moment," said Jim Corbett, today. "That was in the seventh round of his fight with Fitzsimmons."

"Fitz, with his hands in plaster of paris, out Jeff to rags, but could not hurt him. You know Jeff thought all the time that any fellow who could hit like old Fitz might knock him out of his hand right there. That's why he always fought so carefully. In the seventh round Jeff began to think. Fitz, with his plaster of paris hands, had hallooed him on the jaw a hundred times. Suddenly Jeff got onto himself. He thought, 'Why, these fellows can't hurt me.' The idea had just occurred to him, and he jumped out of his corner at the bell and ran at Fitz and put him out. That changed everything for Jeffries. He stopped paying attention to what the other fellow might do and made up his mind to fight on the aggressive all the time. He quit the crouch and stood up straight. When he got a punch he laughed, because he knew he could not be dazed by any blow that a man could strike."

"I saw the difference the moment I stood up with Jeffries in the first round. Jeff stood straight and ran at me without paying any more attention to my jab than he would to so many mosquito stings. I knew it was all off. Jeff was onto himself at last. All the time to meet Jeff has not arrived. If you are looking for one, look up a man who weighs somewhere near a quarter of a ton, has strength enough to hug a grizzly bear to death, and speed enough to dodge a runaway racing car on a narrow road. He must be game and must have the natural fighting instinct. Fighters are born. You can't make them."

"It is a close race in the American league for the battling honors. Stone, of St. Louis, having a slight advantage over LaJoie, of Cleveland. Hal Chase, formerly first baseman of the Los Angeles club, in the Coast league is fifth with an average of .327. Stovall, brother of Jesse Stovall, is thirty-fourth, with an average of .270."

"Deacon" Van Buren would not improve his work at center. He covers a lot of ground and has the faculty of playing for the batter.

THE MIDDLER

MARRIAGE OF DR. BADE

One of the interesting events of the week was the wedding on Wednesday evening of Dr. Charles Frederick Bade, one of the best-known and most popular professors in the Pacific Theological Seminary, and Miss Ratchliffe, an attractive and gifted young graduate of the University of California. The wedding took place at St. Mark's Episcopal Church and was performed by the rector of the church, assisted by Dr. J. K. McLean, president of the Pacific Theological Seminary. After a brief wedding trip Dr. and Mrs. Bade will reside in Berkeley, where Dr. Bade has built a pretty bungalow for his bride.

Dr. Bade is one of the most delightful and progressive young men on the Pacific coast. He started to study divinity in the old way and became so disgusted with the old dogmatic methods of teaching that he forsook the ministry for law. But the study of divinity attracted him so strongly that he returned. After taking up the study of Greek, Hebrew and Sanskrit at Yale, he went abroad, where he read for himself all the original manuscripts of the scriptures where these were obtainable. He also spent much time deciphering many hitherto unread Babylonian inscriptions, and is shortly to bring out a most interesting book on that subject. Dr. Bade occupies the chair of ancient languages at the Pacific Theological Seminary and is a most valued and valuable acquisition to its faculty. Last winter he conducted a Bible class of society folk in San Francisco and this year he will take through the new testament the same people who traversed the old testament ground with him last year. He also lectured before the Philosophical Union last year.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR THE AIKENS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Aiken of San Francisco are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, who was born last Friday at the Children's Hospital. Mrs. Aiken was formerly Miss Ednah Robinson, a daughter of C. D. Robinson and a niece of Mrs. Monroe Salisbury, whom she much resembles in appearance. The marriage of the Aikens at St. Luke's was one of the events of August, a year ago, the announcement of the engagement was followed two or three days later by the marriage. For a time Mr. and Mrs. Aiken lived on Chestnut street, but their reception days were postponed, owing to the death of Mrs. Aiken's mother. A few months ago Mr. and Mrs. Aiken purchased an attractive home on First avenue, near the Presidio, where they have since lived. The house was considerably damaged by the earthquake, but has since been repaired. The Aikens had an exciting experience.

MRS. ROSENFELD'S LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld entertained yesterday at a most attractive luncheon given at the home of Mrs. Mary Nicholson, where Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfeld have made their home since April. After luncheon some exciting rubbers of bridge were played, for which pretty prizes were awarded.

Mrs. T. Dennis Arnold, who, with her two children, has been the guest of Mrs. Russell H. Cool at her home, Dotswood, near Los Gatos, has taken a large house in Berkeley, which she will occupy until the first of January. Dr. Arnold, who has spent the summer in Alaska looking after his mining interests there, expects to return in a week. The oldest son of the family has entered at the University of California and the oldest daughter is at Miss Head's school in Berkeley.

HAVE RETURNED FROM SLEEPY HOLLOW.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Deering and Miss Francesca Deering have returned from ten days spent at Sleepy Hollow, Richard M. Hotelling's ranch in Marin county. The roads in the vicinity are delightful for automobilists and this, with dinners at Pastor's and other amusements, makes time fly for the happy denizens of San Rafael.

It is said that there has been a bridge party in San Rafael every day since the earthquake. The hostesses take turns in rapid succession and, though there are very few formal clubs, someone has a few tables every afternoon. There is also much informal dining out.

CHARITY FETES.

Two large charity fetes have been held in the last fortnight at San Rafael, one for the San Rafael Improvement Association, the other for the Good Samaritan Mission, which did such admirable work and which was totally destroyed by fire in San Francisco. Both have been very successful financially as well as socially.

In Mill Valley today a large charity fete is being held by the Outdoor Art League, for which great preparations have been made.

AT PASO ROBLES.

Mrs. Lucie May Hayes is at Paso Robles, where she is the guest of Mrs. W. C. Ralston. Mrs. Hayes has spent some time at Carmel-by-the-Sea this summer, where she was the guest of Miss Jennie Dunphy.

OGDENS SELL HOME.

Judge and Mrs. F. B. Ogden have sold their home on Alice street, and they will be among those making a new home on the hills in the near future. The residence site was needed for the new hotel, and of course homes must give way before this pressing need. The hotel deal means also the passing of the well-known Manvals home on Thirteenth street.

AT LAKE TAHOE.

Governor and Mrs. George C. Pardee and Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Scott made up a jolly party enjoying ideal September days at Lake Tahoe. They write that the fishing is excellent and that Governor Pardee is thoroughly enjoying a much-needed rest.

On last Saturday evening the East Oakland Club, the members of which have had such jolly reunions, enjoyed a dinner at the Forum. Dinner was served in the banquet room upstairs and was a thoroughly jolly, informal affair.

Mr. Smith is greatly pleased at the fine showing made by his new sloop, the Effort, which won the King's cup in the races at Shelter Island this summer. Mr. Smith is preparing to defend the cup next year.

BISHOP WHITTAKER GOES EAST.

Bishop and Mrs. Whittaker, who have been Mrs. Reque's guests at Highlands this summer, left for the East on Tuesday. They have returned to their home in Philadelphia, where they are most popular.

Bishop and Mrs. Whittaker always enjoy their trips to the coast, for here are the many friends of early days, especially the friends who lived out life together in the pioneer days of Nevada.

Bishop Whittaker is one of the most distinguished clergymen of the East, much beloved by his people and quite as simple and unspelled as he was when he won the hearts of his people in the early days at Gold Hill.

In those days the Whittakers and Reques were near neighbors, and the friendship has grown stronger as the years have rolled on.

LONGS TO RETURN.

General and Mrs. Oscar F. Long and their little daughters will return on Saturday evening from Del Monte, after an exceedingly interesting summer there.

Mrs. Long has been there many weeks with her daughters, and General Long went to Monterey for the week end every week. Mrs. Long greatly enjoyed the vacation days at Del Monte with her friends, among whom were Miss Ella Morgan, Mrs. A. N. Towne, Mrs. Worden and the De Youngs. The De Youngs have returned to Meadowlands, their country home at San Rafael, and they have as their guest Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs. The latter has been threatened with pneumonia and has been very ill, but she bids fair to rapidly improve in the lovely weather of these Indian summer days.

After the dinner the Lovells and their guests attended the performance of "The Idol's Eye," now making such a success at Idora Park.

OAKLAND'S TRANSITION.

Oakland's transition period bids fair to last a long time and the days bring to us many changes. Especially is this so among the old homes and old neighbors. In fact, whole neighborhoods are changed, new people have liffe home, and with her daughter, Miss Josephine Lindley, expects to occupy it in the very near future.

MISS OLIVER AWAY.

Miss Anita Oliver, one of the prettiest brides-elect of the autumn, is spending some pleasant vacation days in Grass Valley. She is the guest there of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Oliver.

LUNINGS IN SONOMA.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Luning are spending some delightful days in Sonoma County. They have gone on an guerre Butters, Miss Ada English and Master Henry Butters. The American goes directly to Chertburg, and Mrs. Butters and her children will go immediately to Paris.

MISS BRITTON ENGAGED.

One of the most interesting engagements of the season was announced this week, that of Miss Florence Britton and Dr. Edmund Keefe of San Francisco.

The engagement was announced at a card party given by Mrs. Walter Thompson Kellogg on Thursday at her home on Walsworth avenue. Mrs. Kellogg, who was formerly Miss Alice Britton, is a sister of the charming bride-elect.

The card party was most enjoyable and very informal, including for the most part intimate friends of the family.

The house was beautifully decorated, making it a bower of flowers, a charming environment for the hostess and her sister.

Mrs. Kellogg was assisted in receiving her friends by her mother, Mrs. John A. Britton, and by her sister, Miss Alice Britton, the latter receiving the heartiest good wishes from the many friends of the family. The John A. Brittons have been for years among our most representative families, very unspoil with prosperity, very true to their friends, they represent what we like to think are the best American traditions. Their home here always represented much that is best in true-hearted hospitality, and Mr. and Mrs. Britton and their children have won for themselves a warm place in the affection of their friends and the esteem and respect of the general public.

Oakland was very sorry when the Brittons felt obliged to take up their abode across the bay, but their Oakland friends were always just as welcome over there.

Mr. Britton is a man of wide business interests, but it is usually the man who has a great deal to do who does things well, and the general public has come to depend upon his judgment in matters of importance, as in the recent labor strike.

And Mr. Britton has made one of the fairest regents the university has known. So the engagement of his daughter is an event of direct interest to many.

Miss Alice Britton is a very interesting girl, of much charm of manner, and she is also most cordial and sincere. She has hosts of friends in Oakland, where the family lived for so many years, and one hears also how popular she was across the bay. The Brittons lived for many months at the Empire, where they entertained friends from both sides of the bay.

Miss Britton recently returned with her parents from a trip to the Orient. They were in Japan when the news of the earthquake reached Mr. Britton, changing their plans. Nevertheless, they saw a great deal of the Japanese empire.

Dr. Edmund Keefe is one of the rising young physicians of San Francisco, a young man who has already achieved success in his chosen profession and one of whom his friends predict much in the future.

Altogether the engagement is a most happy one, and the young people are receiving a shower of good wishes and congratulations from many relatives and friends.

The wedding of Miss Britton and Dr. Keefe will be one of the social events of the early winter. It will be a home wedding, very much like the wedding of Walter Kellogg and Miss Florence Britton, when Miss Alice Britton was a very dainty and charming maid of honor.

Several complimentary affairs are being planned for this interesting bride-elect, who is pretty and popular enough to deserve all the honors that may be offered her.

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION.

The automobile question is assuming such alarming proportions, the stupid, conservative portion of the community is up in arms. One cannot go for a quiet drive now along any of our beautiful roads in any degree of safety. You may be driving in quiet fashion, when you behind you will come dashing some automobile with a reckless driver, just missing you and nearly giving you heart failure from fright. Around the turn of a road on the hillside will come dashing an automobile and you find yourself hanging on the edge of a precipice as it goes whizzing by. The streets are unsafe for our old people, who cannot hurry, and half-breed escapes of poor little children are matters of everyday history. The community cries loudly for some sort of legislation in regard to it; the tragedies that are happening now are too terrible, too heart-breaking to be accepted with equanimity by the general public. The good of the public require the suppression of fast driving, and really jail is the only way come in, old friends have moved away, and you find even houses themselves making pilgrimages to different parts of the city.

The Youngs are again at "Rosecroft," where charming Bertha Young makes her guests most welcome, as of old.

The McNabs are at the old family home, the first time Dr. and Mrs. McNab have been here since their wedding two years ago. When they return to their home in Southern California they are to take with them Miss Marietta Havens as their guest. Miss Havens was one of the very pretty bridesmaids at the artistic wedding of Miss Young and Dr. McNab.

HALLS RENT COTTAGE.

Mrs. Edward Hall and Miss Hattie Hall have rented their picturesque cottage on Twelfth street and are the guests at present of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hall. They are planning to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Hall, Jr.

HERBERT THOMPSON GUEST OF HONOR.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Connors entertained at dinner at the Forum last Saturday evening, the guest of honor being their nephew, Herbert Thompson. It was a very jolly, informal affair, the guests being the most intimate young friends of Mr. Thompson.

MRS. PRATHER SAILS.

Mrs. Prather and Miss Edna Prather sailed from New York last week and have now arrived in Holland, where they are to spend some weeks. Mrs. Prather's sister and Master Arthur Selby also sailed from New York last week, and are to join Miss Florence Selby and Miss Edith Selby in England.

Mrs. A. A. Penoyer, who has been abroad some months, arrived recently from Europe and is spending some days in New York City.

WILL LIVE HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fritz and their popular daughters have decided to make their home for some time to come on this side of the bay, and they have taken a house in North Berkeley. Their residence in San Francisco was not destroyed, but it looks directly out upon the burned district, so life in it would be full of sad memories.

JOLLIFFES SELL HOME.

The Joliffes have sold their large home on Pacific avenue and they expect to spend a great deal of time this winter both in Oakland and San Mateo. Mrs. Lindley has purchased the Jo-for the man who cannot learn to drive a motor car slowly in a crowded street. The tragedy of the terrible disaster which will probably cost Mrs. Melvin her life has brought gloom to many families for the Melvins are known everywhere in many circles, here. Everyone is full of deepest pity for poor Mrs. Melvin, who met with so terrible a fate. She was so loving to her own family that they adored her, and most sweet to her friends. It means a sad ending to the wedding journey of Mr. and Mrs. John, formerly Ruth Morse.

SOCIAL NEWS of the WEEK

The wedding of the Johns was recently a bright affair at the Melvin home. Mrs. Melvin doing everything possible for her sister the happy bride of the evening.

Miss Mary Alveta Morse, another sister, has been making a great success in a musical way in New York, where she was to have spent the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John and Miss Morse have left New York and are coming home as fast as the limited will bring them. One can imagine what this awful journey across the continent will mean to them, the suspense which must be theirs and the news which finally awaits them when they arrive.

The Melvins did not want very much to go in the automobile—but it was represented to them that as there had been one accident it would make the driver specially careful. And with that assurance that the driver would be careful they started on what is likely to prove a fatal journey for poor Mr. Melvin.

PEOPLE MAKING PLANS

On all sides you hear of people making plans for the winter for no matter how loyal people may be to San Francisco, and they do love it with a rare intensity. It is not going to be a pleasant place in which to live this winter.

The ruins will be all the more desolate under leaden skies and beaten by the pitiless rain so those who are not compelled to live in San Francisco are planning to spend the winter either in New York or Europe. Mrs. William Crocker and her children have been recently in London but have gone on to Paris, where Mrs. Crocker is establishing a beautiful home.

The Misses Maud and Alice O'Connor returned from Europe with Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and they have been busy in a ranging business affairs in San Francisco. They leave next week for New York and they will spend the winter abroad. Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs is also planning to go on and Mrs. Jennie Blair is to join her mother in Paris in the new future.

Miss A. N. Towne and her daughter Mrs. Clinton Worden are going to New York and they are planning to spend the entire winter there. They have been Mrs. Requa's guests at Highland recently and Mrs. Requa entertained this week also Miss Maud O'Connor.

MRS. REQUA TO GO EAST.

Mrs. Isaac Requa leaves on Sunday for an Eastern trip going to New York with her son Mr. Mark Requa whom she will join at Ogden.

Mrs. Requa will have a most interesting visit with dear friends in New York. Her sister Mrs. Shaw who lives at the Netherlands the greater part of the year is still at a delightful country place near New York.

Mrs. Kruttschnitt, who is a great friend of Mrs. Requa's is now in New York and Mrs. Collins P. Huntington has returned from abroad and is at "Frog Neck" her country home on Long Island.

Mrs. Oscar Long and her little daughters are coming up from Del Monte on Saturday and early in the week they expect to return to remain some time longer at that famous and picturesque hotel.

Mrs. Requa expects to return to Highlands some time before the Christmas holidays.

MRS. DEAN BETTER.

Mrs. Walter Dean who has been so seriously ill at the Fabiola Hospital is now much better, and expects to leave in the near future for New York, where she will join her family.

Her daughter Miss Helen Dean is one of the most popular girls in New York, and she is besides a very pretty and interesting girl. Mr. Walter Dean has been in Oakland and has been Mrs. Requa's guest at Highlands during Mrs. Dean's serious illness. The Deans and Requas have been friends for many years.

HAVE GONE TO WASHINGTON.

Secretary and Mrs. Victor Metcalf left for Washington this week and they were accompanied by Miss Nellie Chabot.

The Metcalfs have a fine shad house in Washington, in fact they have more than their share of entertaining each winter. There are two distinct social sets in Washington. One is, of course, the official set always changing, as the many elections all over the country send new Senators and new Congressmen. Most of these people are never for a minute members of anything but the official set. Of the inner exclusive circles of Washington made up of old-time families they see nothing at all. These old families frankly call themselves "Cave Dwellers" and it must be said for them that the "caves" are most carefully guarded.

Mrs. Metcalf comes of a very old Southern family, and she is a great favorite in the most exclusive social sets of Washington, as well as in the were very beautiful—all in tones of pink—and the roof garden was a fascinating series of pictures, all the guests elaborately gowned in light and becoming costumes, with hats to match, in many cases, new winter hats were in evidence. Among the charming gowns of the afternoon were those of Mrs. Melvin Chapman, Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. Harry Meek, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Ernest Cotton, Mrs. T. L. Barker, Mrs. McNear, Mrs. J. R. Burnham and Mrs. Edward Welsh.

After luncheon there was an interesting game of cards, the prize going hospitality about it, from the pioneer days of the city.

Mr. Stephen Gage is one of our best-known pioneers, a man known not only in the city, but throughout the State—one of the leading men of his time.

His friends have been welcome to his home—a home of plenty, in which true hospitality was a dominant feature. And his daughters have inherited his generous, kindly spirit, and "the Gage girls" have never been so happy as in entertaining their friends.

Mrs. George Gross has a pretty home of her own, and Mrs. Richardson, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth Gage, lives permanently in Austin, Texas, but Mrs. Pease is at the old home, entertaining the many family friends with the old-time hospitality. Some homes are stiff, formal—you go to them because you have to, and you are glad, with a sense of relief, when it is time to go home.

There are other homes with a sense of refinement about them, cordiality is in the atmosphere; one feels the welcome, and one is glad to linger therein.

And of such is the historic Gage home. Mrs. Pease is entertaining at a series of card parties, in which her friends enjoy delightful reunions.

"Five hundred" is usually the game of the afternoon, much to many people's joy. "Bridge" is a more classical game, more scientific, but you don't have a good time, especially if your partner happens to be a "card sharp" and one who can think of nothing else but a possible prize.

Mrs. Pease's guests on Wednesday were Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. Murray Orrick, Mrs. Maxwell Taft, Mrs. Charles Bain, Mrs. Howard Bray, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Newton Koser, Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham, Mrs. Creighton Carmine, Mrs. J. C. Hampton, Mrs. A. D. Proctor, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. Charles Fletcher, Mrs. Carlton Frost, Mrs. A. S. Larkey, Mrs. W. E. Colby, Mrs. Charles Parcells, Mrs. Frank Parcells, Mrs. Charles Bain, Mrs. Whipple Hall, Mrs. George Gross, Miss Mollie Mathes, Miss Katherine Jackson, Miss Beattie Reed, Miss Lucetta Burnham, Miss Alma Brown, Miss Violet Albright, Miss Elsie Marwedel, Miss Gertrude Allen, Miss Emma Gross, Miss Nellie Gross, Miss Longworth, Miss Vrooman, Miss Viva Nicholson, Miss Ruth Knowles and Miss Alice Knowles.

Mrs. Pease will also be the graceful hostess again on Saturday afternoon, entertaining her friends at her home at the last of the series of card parties.

Her guests will be Mrs. George Leiter of Alameda, Miss Belle Nicholson, Miss Anabelle Root, Mrs. Frederick Stolp, Mrs. Asa Mendenhall, Mrs. John F. Conners, Miss Anita Thomson, Mrs. George Humphreys, Miss Gertrude Russell, Miss Bessie Palmer, Mrs. John Waterhouse of Honolulu, Mrs. McKilligan, Mrs. A. T. Fletcher, Mrs. C. S. Carter, Mrs. W. S. Gage, Miss Eva Yorker, Mrs. Arnold Needham, Miss Larkey, Mrs. Felton Taylor, Mrs. Charles Lovell, Mrs. George Bornemann, Mrs. E. D. Henderson, Mrs. Byron Stone, Mrs. Herbert Gaskill, Mrs. Harry Carlton, Mrs. A. W. Pattani, the Misses Heller, Mrs. Allender, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Campbell, Miss George Strong and Miss Florence Hush.

Later in the winter Mrs. Pease is to again entertain at some large gathering at her home.

INTERESTING DATE.

One of the most interesting dates of the very near future is the large card party which Miss Helene Robson is planning to give for Miss Lucetta Burnham, one of the very sweetest brides-elect of the year. The Robsons were among those burned out in San Francisco, and they have taken up their residence at the Berkeley Inn.

Miss Robson and Miss Burnham were both bridesmaids at the wedding of Captain Edgar and Miss Edith Downing, and they are intimate friends.

Miss Robson has invited forty of her young girl friends to meet Miss Burnham, and the card party promises to be one of the most brilliant social events of the month at Berkeley.

GLAD OF THEIR COMING.

Many old friends are glad of the coming to the coast of Mr. and Mrs. William Geor Hitchcock, whose home has been for some years now in New York City.

Mrs. Hitchcock was formerly Miss Cassie Drum, the eldest daughter of the Drum household. The Drums had for many years a prominent home on Market street.

Mr. Frank Drum has taken the Bowls place at San Mateo, and the Hitchcocks and Miss Cassie Drum are to be his guests this autumn.

BACK FROM LOS GATOS.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Stephenson and Miss Betty Stephenson have returned from Los Gatos and are at their Linda Vista home.

Mrs. Driscoll has gone to San Francisco, and will occupy a home on Broadway which she has recently built.

disco, and will occupy a home on Broadway which she has recently built.

NAVAL PEOPLE.

Many people prominent in naval circles have taken up their permanent residence in Berkeley this year, among them Admiral and Mrs. Miller, and Commander and Mrs. Glass. Mrs. Glass does a great deal in the way of social entertaining, and she is a most attractive hostess.

Her tea this week given for Mrs. Charles Plummer Perkins was one of the leading social events of the month at Berkeley. Mrs. Perkins is the wife of the Captain of the Pensacola at Prather, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Miss Marion Walsh, Miss Charlotte Hall, Miss Carmen Sutton, Mrs. Scott—in fact, a bevy of very pretty young matrons and girls. It is going to be great fun. One may have a good time, while one is doing a good day's work in helping along the cause of "sweet charity."

QUIETLY WEDDED.

The fact that Miss Marie Rhodes of Berkeley and Peter Kawalkowski were married August 23 of this year had just become public and congratulations are being showered upon the well-known couple. It had been intended to keep the wedding secret, but the parents of the young woman learned of the event in time to be present at the ceremony, which took place at St. John's Catholic Church in San Francisco. Rev. Father Butler officiated. Those attending the wedding were the father and mother of the bride, the groom's mother and sister, Miss Martha and Leo Kawalkowski. The official announcement of the wedding was made by card yesterday.

The bride wore a dainty gown of tan crepe de chine and a tan picture hat and carried bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Katherine Downing as bridesmaid. Miss Downing was given in gray silk and wore a hat to match. George Downing was best man.

MISS MURIEL KELLEY, who will assist at the fete to be given October 6 at Idora Park by the Ladies' Relief Society.

official set which revolves around the Cabinet.

This is Miss Nellie Chabot's third winter in Washington and one hears much of her social prestige there. She is a most charming and cultured woman. She read much during the years in which she took care of an invalid mother and there was time for the study of music and the cultivation of a rarely beautiful voice. Miss Nellie Chabot is one of the most exquisitely gowned women in Washington society and that is saying a great deal for most people in society have money in Washington and can afford to dress a great deal.

Miss Chabot's New York and Paris gowns are most artistic and she is one of the very striking women in the exclusive Washington circles. It is much good fortune for Oakland that we are represented in a social way by such women as Mrs. Victor Metcalf and Miss Nellie Chabot.

WILL NOT COME HERE.

The Carl Schoonmakers (Miss Jean Howard) have decided not to come to Oakland this winter, after all. They will remain in Sausalito, where they have established one of the most artistic of bungalow homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hall entertained in honor of their first anniversary and the guests represented the young people who were members of the happy wedding party.

GAVE A LUNCHEON.

Another most interesting date at Idora Park was the luncheon given on the roof garden by Mrs. R. W. Gorrell, in honor of the members of the Cosmos Club.

Mrs. Gorrell has belonged to the club since its first meeting, and she is one of the best loved and most popular of its members. She has been the secretary of the club ever since it was established some years ago.

The Lillencrantz family have been at their country home near Aptos all summer and it has been arranged that the wedding of the daughter of the household shall take place there.

Miss Edith Lillencrantz is a girl very much worth while, of fine character, training having studied along most unusual lines. She did exceedingly fine work in the "Institute of Technology," of which she is a graduate.

Doctor Thorpe formerly lived in Oakland but he is now one of the very successful practicing physicians of Los Angeles.

All the various members of the Lillencrantz family are going to Aptos for the wedding, which bids fair to be a most interesting and picturesque event.

The wedding of Miss Pauline Mathews and Mr. Earle Henley will take place quietly next Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mathews. It is to be a very informal wedding, the guests all intimate friends of the family. The Henleys come from a very prominent family in Indiana, and Mr. Henley, the father of the groom, is coming to the coast for the wedding.

DATES FOR CHARITIES.

Dates for many charities are on the cards this year. The Providence Hospital Auxiliary announces a benefit at Ye Liberty Theater about the middle of October, and next Saturday is the date set at Idora Park for the fete in aid of the Ladies' Relief Society. The object is such a worthy one—the rebuilding of the children's home that was burned—that the fete cannot fail of success.

It is very expensive to build just now—a fact which adds to the burden of the Ladies' Relief Society.

But perhaps they won't have to mind, for they bid fair to simply coin money at the fete. There are to be all sorts of booths, and a "Gym Khana," which bids fair to be the funniest thing of its kind ever attempted at an out-door fete.

It is to be a race of animals—the only stipulation being that the animals shall come in first; otherwise, the fair drivers might all appear leading the animals!

One prominent girl is to drive a goose; another a pig; still another a peacock. One pretty girl is to drive a lamb, and another will take her chances for the prize with a pigeon. One woman is brave enough to drive a goat, and another a little dog.

One girl expects to be very picturesque driving a turkey; in fact, the fowls of the air and the beasts of the field are to be well represented—like-wise, the young society matrons and girls.

Among those taking part in the famous "Gym Khana" are Mrs. Samuel

J. Nesbitt, Mrs. J. D. MacDonald, Mrs. W. D. Motts, Mrs. E. J. Chase, Mrs. I. M. Moore, Miss Daisy Norton, Miss Mabel Norton, Miss Gertrude Dowling, Miss Edith Moore, Miss Linnie Chase, Mrs. J. D. MacDonald, Mr. W. D. Motts, Mr. E. Richards, Mr. George Dowling, Charles Hatch, Charles Nesbitt, and George Nesbitt.

BONNESTELL-WALTON.

One of the interesting weddings of the week was that of Miss Lura Bonnestell and Stanley Walton, which took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bonnestell, on Merrimac street. The pretty ceremony was witnessed only by relatives and a few friends of the popular couple. Rev. Bradford Leavitt of the First Unitarian Church, San Francisco, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride wore a stylish traveling gown and had only one attendant, her sister, Miss Blanche Bonnestell, while William Walton acted as best man.

After the ceremony there was an informal reception and wedding supper, and the couple departed on a honeymoon trip. They will reside in Mill Valley, where a pretty bungalow awaits them.

REED-DEMETER.

A recent wedding of note was that of Miss Rowena Reed and Professor Ludwig J. Demeter of the University, which was solemnized Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents in Broderick. The ceremony was performed out of doors, in a rustic bower on the lawn of the Reed home. Half a hundred relatives and friends were present.

Rev. Mr. Swan of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Broderick officiated. Mr. Britton, the German vice-consul at San Francisco, officiated as best man, and Mrs. Charles Reed, sister-in-law, was matron of honor. The bride was given away by her brother, Charles Reed. Professor Demeter is connected with the German department of the University.

The couple will reside in Berkeley, where they have a wide circle of friends.

THEATER PARTY.

Next Friday afternoon a score of congenial friends will attend the national to be given by Constance Crawley at Ye Liberty playhouse. Those who will make up the group are Mrs. M. J. Layman, Mrs. Wallace Pond, Mrs. Gilbert Curtis, Mrs. William A.

SHIPPING AROUND OAKLAND HARBOR

THE GOLD LEGION

The forthcoming report of the United States mint officials indicates that over $425,000,000 of the precious basic metals were produced last year, against $375,000,000 in 1904. People now living will in all probability see a billion of dollars in gold produced in a year. In the United States, Nevada, California and Idaho are the centers of greatest development and promise at present.

The Gold Legion

Has a most promising group of claims under development at Knob Hill, Eldorado Canyon district, Lincoln County, Nevada. We have sulphide ores in two shafts on two separate ledges, and can develop these sulphide ores in a half dozen shafts at less than 100 feet on a half dozen ledges on our ground. These sulphides carrying silver and gold, make a permanent and profitable mining, milling and concentrating proposition. This camp has produced several millions from surface workings. We could install a milling plant now, but we prefer to open up and block out 20,000 or 30,000 tons of this ore before we put in our mill. This is good mining, and is proof of conservative management. We are selling blocks of stock from $50 to $500, to consummate this work. With funds to develop we believe it just as feasible to block out 200,000 or 300,000 tons of ore on this ground. The indications are that we will have great bodies of these sulphides. Why not put some of your surplus funds to work for you?

YOM KIPPUR IS CONTINUED TODAY

The first service of Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, was held last evening in the synagogue on the corner of Twelfth and Castro streets. It was called Kil Nidre and was extremely beautiful, some of the music dating back to the year 500.

B. C.

Dr. Friedlander chose for the subject of his address, "In Thy hands I commit my spirit." From this text he drew the lesson of self-sacrifice, and using Tennyson's beautiful poem of Enoch Arden as an example of the idea he desired to convey. The musical program was inspiring, especially interesting being a violin solo rendered by Mr. Greenlander.

The singers were Miss Camille Frank and Mrs. Morgan, sopranos; Miss Louise Feldheim and Ruth Waterman, contraltos; Edward Crandall and Mr. McMullan, tenors, and Mr. Rowland and J. de P. Teller, basses. This afternoon at the service of Yom Kippur Dr. Friedlander's subject for the sermon will be "Three Phases of Society."

BRADLEY FILES HIS ANSWER

Admits Calling Wife She-Devil
But Says He Had Good Reason to Do So.

Following the suit of Mrs. Louise Martin-Bradley for a divorce from her husband, Hiram T. Bradley, the automobile expert, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, comes Bradley's answer to her complaint, which was filed yesterday.

Admitting that he once called his wife a "she-devil," and that at times he would not speak to her, Bradley alleges that he had good and sufficient reason for so doing. He denies that he ever called her vile names, or that he ever went home in a drunken condition. He said that Mrs. Bradley made remarks at various times which caused him "intense mental excitement," and that he at last retaliated by calling her a "she-devil." He states, however, that he immediately apologized, and that Mrs. Bradley forgave him.

Bradley was the widow of Shelby F. Martin, who left a large estate to her and two small children. Her first husband was the son of Mrs. Jane Foote Martin and nephew of the late W. W. Foote.

REAL ESTATE AND MINING.

Captain W. R. Thomas, former mayor of Oakland, has moved his office to 857 Broadway, between Ninth and Tenth streets, where he will conduct a real estate and mining exchange, having established the headquarters for a number of successful mining companies, as well as listed properties both in California and Nevada.

W. T. Vahlberg, notary public, and for many years circulation manager of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, has associated himself with the exchange, and as both gentlemen are prominent in commercial and professional circles, their clientele numbers some of the leading citizens and capitalists in this vicinity. It is their intention to make the exchange one of the features of Greater Oakland, and to this end they have secured the services of well-known experts and assessors, who are always on hand to investigate mining properties and submit authentic reports for their clients.

HOSPITAL CASES.

Minor cases as follows were disposed of at the Receiving Hospital yesterday by Dr. Irwin.

A needle was removed from the index finger of the left hand of Joe Bing, an overall maker, who resides in East Oakland.

The little finger of Thomas Doran's left hand was dressed for a cut made by a tin. Doran resides at 1665 Sixth street. August Hartman, who resides at 1213 Thirteenth avenue, was advised to go to the County Infirmary because of tuberculosis of the right wrist joint.

HARRIMAN'S PLANS.

There is an article of absorbing interest, with illustrations, in this week's Town Talk, explaining the maneuvers of the great railroad magnate at North Beach. The writer tells of the motives of the transportation companies in respecting this city and discusses the factor that ensures the pre-eminence of the metropolis. Among the editorials in "A Plea for Filippi" there is one that should impel reflection among the clergy. The Spectator tells why Wizard Burbank is doomed, also, of a scheme to sidetrack General Smith in the Philippines. He presents a very striking portrait of William F. Herrin and tells of that gentleman's genius as an organizer and promoter. The article on the finances of Bourke Cochran, discusses Filipino smart society. In the Social Fringe department there is an amusing story of the romantic manner in which a society girl's engagement was disclosed. One of the features of the paper is a very clever short story.

THESE ARE FOR "FILLERS."

The proprietor of a Boston hotel says that a week or two ago a third-looking person from Nashua, N. H., presented himself at the desk of the hotel, stating that he desired a room "I've got my supper, but I'll be off before breakfast," said he, gravely, to the clerk, "now, what would be your lowest price for a room to sleep in?" "One dollar, if you leave at 12 o'clock tomorrow morning," was the reply. "Well—wouldn't half a dollar make it just about right?" demanded the wayfarer, producing a battered fifty-cent piece. "You see, I'm all excited up, travelin', an' I don't expect to sleep more'n half the time I'm in there."

"Did you ever see a monument to a pig?" said an invalid. "No," "Well, there is such a monument in existence. The town of Luneburg, in Hampshire county, it stands in the town hall—a glass case containing an embossed horn from the pig, together with a great slab of marble, which is inscribed with the name of the pig. Luneburg is a rich town and famous through its salt springs. A pig discovered the springs. To this pig the town owes its wealth. The inscription says, in Latin: 'Stranger, contemplate here the mortal remains of the pig which acquired for itself imperishable glory by the discovery of the salt springs of Luneburg.'"

No self-respecting actor will admit that his show is not drawing full houses every night. One of the actors who plays juvenile parts recently met a leading man on the Rialto. The leading man was dressed in deep black and wore a wide band of crape on his hat, and he had discarded the patent leather shoes an actor loves for others of subdued polish that are more of the matter. "What are you doing?" asked the juvenile. "My father is dead," answered the leading man, in a heart-broken voice. The juvenile expressed "his sympathy" and then he asked: "Last week, we buried him today—a nice funeral," answered the heart-broken one. "Large attendance?" asked the juvenile. A crowd of enthusiastic admirers flashed over the mourner's face. "Large attendance!" he cried. "My boy, we turned em away."

STUDENT ACCUSED OF ABDUCTING GIRL

ITHACA, Sept. 28—Adelphine Jegena, a student from South America, was arrested today charged with abducting 15-year-old Jessie Bowman, who lives in this city.

The girl told the police that several days ago Jegena asked her to marry him and go to Syracuse. She trusted him and went. She said Jegena kept promising to marry her, but deceived her by hearing from his guardian in New York. According to the girl the couple lived at the hotel for several days and then Jegena put her on the train for Ithaca. Jegena and a countryman were arrested, creating a disturbance in their rooms last night. When taken to the station he was identified as the man accused by Miss Bowman.

Jegena denies the promise to marry, and says the girl went of her own free will.

Doctors Are Puzzled.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth Mciver of Vanceboro, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and chest, I was in the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die when, as a last resort, I was induced to try the Dr. King's Cough and Colic Remedy. The worst coughs and colics, bronchitis, tonsillitis, laryngitis, whooping cough, La Grippe. Guaranteed at Osgood Brothers' drug stores, Broadway, corner of Twelfth, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

REWARDS WIFE WHO CAPTURES FUGITIVE

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Mrs. George Harding, vice-president of the Daughters of Columbia, who, single-handed, captured John Wright on the Goodrich Line docks at Milwaukee, will be rewarded for her bravery with a trip to Europe. Wright is an alleged defaulting cashier formerly employed by her husband.

Mrs. Harding was so gratified at the capture that she told her she could have anything she wanted that was in his power to give. He thought that she would ask for a new hat or possibly a new dress.

"I suppose you can let me have that trip to Europe," she said. "If you want to reward me."

Although this slightly exceeded Harding's expectations, he did not back down, but informed his wife that she could go whenever she got ready and he would pay all expenses. Mrs. Harding will go to Italy some time next winter.

When Mrs. Harding recognized Wright she pointed a revolver at his head and held him until the police were summoned.
